CONSTITUTION AND BY-LAWS OF THE SOCIETY OF COLONIAL WARS IN THE STATE OF
NEW YORK

AS AMENDED TO MARCH, 1921

CONSTITUTION

PREAMBLE

Whereas, There has never been just and proper celebrations commemorative of the martial events of colonial history happening from the settlement of Jamestown, Virginia, May 13, 1607, to the battle of Lexington, April 19, 1775;

And whereas, Our brave and dauntless forefathers crossed an unknown ocean to establish homes on the virgin soil of a new continent where all men could freely worship according to the dictates of their consciences and secure immunity from religious persecution. And thereafter they and their descendants imperiled their lives and jeopardized their families and possessions in hostilities with the savage Indian in the founding of the Colonies of America, and sprang when needed to aid their mother country with loyal patriotism when in warfare with another nation. These glorious sires produced our heroic ancestors of the Revolution, who withstood the encroachments of a parent country, and accomplished the independence of the United States, and adopted those imperishable declarations of American brotherhood and inalienable rights which are to-day the pride and glory of the untrammelled freedom of the whole world;

Therefore, The Society of Colonial Wars has been instituted by the descendants of these illustrious forefathers, to perpetuate the names, memory or deeds of those brave and courageous men, who, in military, naval or civil service, by their acts or counsel assisted in the establishment and continuance of the American Colonies; to collect and secure for preservation the manuscripts, rolls, records and other documents relating to that period; to inspire among the members and their descendants the fraternal and patriotic spirit of their forefathers, and to inculcate in the community respect and reverence for the acts and principles of those indomitable men, which made the freedom and unity of our country a possibility.

ARTICLE I

NAME OF THE SOCIETY

The Society shall be known by the name and title of the "Society of Colonial Wars in the State of New York."

ARTICLE II

MEMBERSHIP

Any male person above the age of twenty-one years, of good moral character and reputation, shall be eligible to membership in the Society of Colonial Wars in the State of New York who is lineally descended in the male or female line from an ancestor:

(1) Who served as a military or naval officer, or as a soldier, sailor or marine, or as a privateersman, under authority of the Colonies which afterwards formed the United States, or in the forces of Great Britain which participated with those of the said Colonies in any wars in which the said Colonies were engaged, or in which they enrolled men, from the settlement of Jamestown, May 13, 1607, to the battle of Lexington, April 19, 1775; or

(2) Who held office in any of the Colonies between the dates above mentioned, either as

(a) Director-General, Vice-Director-General, or member of the Council, in the Colony of New Netherland;

(b) Governor, Lieutenant or Deputy Governor, Lord Proprietor, member of the King's or Governor's Council, in the Colonies of New York, New Jersey, Virginia, Pennsylvania and Delaware;

CONSTITUTION

(c) Lord Proprietor, Governor, Deputy Governor or member of the Council, in Maryland and the Carolinas;

(d) Governor, Deputy Governor, Governor's Assistant, or Commissioner to the United Colonies of New England, or body of Assistants in any of the New England Colonies.

Membership shall be hereditary in the male line of the present members of this Society and of those who may hereafter be elected, up to the limit that the Society may hereafter determine upon, subject to the vote of the Council upon the moral qualification of the person who may be the heir at any time to such membership.

The membership of the Society shall be limited to 1,000, exclusive of descendants of members, and of members of State societies who may be transferred to this Society, and of members of the Army, Navy or Marine Corps on active service.

ARTICLE III

OFFICERS

The officers of the Society of Colonial Wars shall be a Governor, a Deputy Governor, a First Lieutenant Governor, a Second Lieutenant Governor, a Third Lieutenant Governor, a Secretary, a Deputy Secretary, a Treasurer, a Registrar, a Historian, a Chaplain, a Chancellor, a Vice-Chancellor, two Surgeons and a Genealogist, who shall be ex-officio members of the Council.

The officers of the General Society residing in New York shall also be ex-officio members of the Council.

ARTICLE IV

GENTLEMEN OF THE COUNCIL AND COMMITTEES

There shall be a Council consisting of nine members, who shall be called "Gentlemen of the Council," in addition to the ex-officio members. A Committee on Membership, consisting of seven members, in addition to the ex-officio members; a Committee on Collection of Historical Documents and Records, consisting of five members, and a Committee on Installation, consisting of six members who shall also act as stewards.

CONSTITUTION

At the election of 1898 two members shall be elected for a term of one year, two for a term of two years, and two for a term of three years, and thereafter two members shall be elected for a term of three years.

At the election of 1898 three Gentlemen of the Council shall be elected for a term of one year, three for a term of two years, and three for a term of three years, and thereafter at each election three Gentlemen of the Council shall be elected for a term of three years.

Vacancies in the Council shall be filled by the Council until the vacancy shall be filled by the Society at its next meeting.

Delegates and Alternates to the General Assembly, in accordance with the provisions of the Constitution of the General Society, shall be appointed by the Council.

ARTICLE V

ELECTION OF OFFICERS

Prior to June 1st in each year the Council shall appoint a Nominating Committee of nine members, who four weeks before the General Court of the Society shall report to the Council a list of members to be voted for at the ensuing election, to succeed the Officers, Gentlemen of the Council and Committees whose terms expire at such General Court. Said list, to be entitled "Regular Nominations," must be immediately posted by the Secretary in the office of the Society and must be sent by the Secretary to each member of the Society at least one week before the day fixed for the General Court.

The action of such Nominating Committee, however, shall in no wise interfere with the power of any member of the Society to make his own nominations, but all such independent nominations shall be sent to the Secretary at least three weeks before the day fixed for the General Court. Such independent nominations shall be immediately posted by the Secretary in the Office of the Society and a copy thereof entitled "Independent

Nominations" sent to every member of the Society at least one week prior to the day fixed for the General Court. All votes cast at the General Court for persons other than those nominated as aforesaid shall be counted as blanks.

The officers, together with the Gentlemen of the Council, and Members of the Committees shall be elected at the General Court by ballot, a plurality of the vote cast for the persons so nominated shall elect and the said Officers and Committees shall hold office for the period of one year, excepting the Gentlemen of the Council and Committee on Installation, who shall hold office for the terms provided by Article IV of the Constitution.

ARTICLE VI

ADMISSION OF MEMBERS

Every application for membership shall be made in writing, subscribed by the applicant, and approved by two members of the Society over their signatures. Applications shall be accompanied by proof of eligibility, and such applications and proof shall be referred to the Committee on Membership, who shall carefully investigate the same and report at the next meeting their recommendation thereon. Members shall be elected by a vote at a Council of the Society duly called, but a negative vote of one in five of the ballots cast shall cause the rejection of such candidate. Payment of the initiation fee and dues and subscription to the declaration contained in the Constitution of the Society shall be a prerequisite of membership.

ARTICLE VII

DECLARATION

Every member shall declare upon honor that he will use his best efforts to promote the purposes of the Society, and will observe the "Constitution" and "By-Laws" of the same; and, if a citizen of the United States, shall declare that he will support the Constitution of the United States; such declaration shall be in writing and subscribed by the member making it.

CONSTITUTION

ARTICLE VIII

PURPOSES

At every Council the purposes of the Society shall be considered and the best measures to promote them adopted. No party political question of the day or existing controversial religious subject shall be discussed or considered at any meeting of the Society.

ARTICLE IX

COMMEMORATIONS

The members of the Society, when practicable, shall hold a celebration commemorative of some martial event in Colonial history and dine together at least once in each year.

ARTICLE X

SEAL

The Seal of the Society of Colonial Wars in the State of New York shall be a circle, upon the face of which shall be engraved the following designs:

In the center thereof shall be shown a copy of the original coat-of-arms granted by the States General of Holland to its Province of New Netherlands, displayed as a shield of pretence, shadowed (so as to show its elevation above the groundwork) upon, above and over, a groundwork displaying fleur-de-lis; which latter are displayed only as emblematic of the part taken by the American Colonies in the French Wars in America. Under said coat-of-arms shall be displayed a bundle of pointed arrows, tied with the skin of a rattlesnake, an incident in American Colonial history, as emblematic of the Indian Wars of said Colonies. Beneath these shall be given the dates 1607-1775, separated by a fleur-de-lis; the said groundwork of fleur-de-lis being bounded by a circular ribbon, ended at said dates by folded or wavy ends. On said ribbon shall be inscribed "Society of Colonial Wars" in the State of New York.

CONSTITUTION

The face of the Seal shall be surrounded or bounded by a complete circular twisted cable as an ornament, and also as significant of the entire unity of the members of the Society.

The Secretary shall be the Custodian of the Seal.

ARTICLE XI

INSIGNIA

The insignia of the Society shall consist of a badge, pendant by a gold crown and ring, from a watered silk ribbon one inch and a half wide, of red, bordered with white and edged with red. The badge shall be surrounded by a laurel wreath in gold and shall consist of:

Obverse, A white enameled star of nine points, bordered with red enamel, having between each star point a shield displaying an emblem of one of the nine original colonies; and, within a blue enameled garter bearing the motto "Fortiter Pro Patria," an Indian's head in gold relievo.

Reverse, The star above described, but with gold edge, each shield between the points displaying a mullet, and in the center, with an annulet of blue, bearing the title "Society of Colonial Wars, 1607-1775," the figure of a colonial soldier in gold relievo. The reverse of the crown of each insignia shall bear an engraved number corresponding to that of the registered number of the member to whom such insignia has been issued.

The insignia shall be worn by the members conspicuously, and only on the left breast, except that members who are or have been officers of the Society may wear the same suspended by the ribbon around the neck, on all occasions when they shall assemble as such for any stated purpose or celebration. The badge shall never be worn as an article of jewelry. The Treasurer of the Society shall issue the insignia to the members and shall keep a record of all issued by him. Such insignia shall be returned to the Treasurer by any member who may resign or be expelled. No member shall receive more than one badge, except to replace one lost, proof of which must be satisfactorily established and the new one paid for.

CONSTITUTION

The undress insignia shall be a rosette or button of the size now in use, of watered silk of scarlet color with white thread edging, like the insignia ribbon. This decoration may be worn at all times in the left coat-lapel.

ARTICLE XII

ALTERATION OF AMENDMENT

No alteration or amendment to the Constitution of this Society shall be made, unless notice shall have been given in writing, signed by the member proposing the same, at a previous meeting. The Secretary shall then send a printed copy of the proposed amendment to the members of the Society and state the Court at which the same will be voted upon. No amendment shall be made unless adopted by a two-thirds vote of the members present at the Court voting upon the same.

BY-LAWS

SECTION I

INITIATION FEES AND DUES

The initiation fee shall be ten dollars, the annual dues five dollars, payable on or before the first day of January of each year, but all officers of the Army and Navy while absent from the city of New York on active service shall be released from the payment of annual dues during such absence. The payment at one time of one hundred dollars shall thenceforth exempt the member so paying from the payment of annual dues. Any member at his election to membership or subsequently who may contribute two hundred and fifty dollars to the "Permanent Fund" of the Society shall be exempt from the payment of annual dues, and this exemption shall extend in perpetuity to his lineal successors in membership from the same propositus, one at a time, who may be selected for such exemption by the Society, said perpetual membership to be transmitted to the holder, subject to the approval of the Society.

SECTION II

GOVERNOR

The Governor, or in his absence the Deputy Governor, or a Lieutenant Governor, a Chairman pro tempore, shall preside at all Courts of the Society, and shall exercise the duties of a presiding officer, under parliamentary rules, subject to an appeal to the Society. The Governor shall be a member ex-officio of all committees except the Nominating Committee and Committee on Membership. He shall have power to convene the Council at his discretion, or upon the written request of five members of the Society, or upon the request of two members of the Council.

BY-LAWS

SECTION III

SECRETARY

The Secretary shall conduct the general correspondence of the Society and keep a record thereof. He shall notify all elected candidates of their admission and perform such other duties as the Society or his office may require. He shall have charge of the seal, certificates of incorporation, by-laws, historical and other documents and records of the Society other than those required to be deposited with the Registrar, and shall affix the seal to all properly authenticated certificates of membership and transmit the same to the members to whom they may be issued. He shall notify the Registrar of all admissions to membership. He shall certify all acts of the Society and, when required, authenticate them under seal. He shall have charge of printing and publications issued by the Society. He shall give due notice of the time and place of the holding of all Courts of the Society and of the Council, and shall incorporate in said notice the names of all applicants for membership to be voted on at said Council, and shall be present at the same. He shall keep fair and accurate records of all the proceedings and orders of the Society and of the Council, and shall give notice to each officer who may be affected by them of all votes, resolutions and proceedings of the Society or the Council, and at the General Court or oftener, shall report the names of those candidates who had been admitted to membership and those whose resignations have been accepted, and of those members who have been expelled for cause or failure to substantiate claim of descent. In his absence from any meeting the Deputy Secretary shall act, or a Secretary pro tempore may be designated therefor.

SECTION IV

TREASURER

The Treasurer shall collect and keep the funds and securities of the Society, and as often as those funds shall amount to one hundred dollars they shall be deposited in some bank in the city of New York, which shall be designated by the Council, to the credit of the "Society of Colonial Wars," and such funds shall be drawn thence on a check of the Treasurer for the purposes of the Society only. Out of these funds he shall pay such sums only as may be ordered by the Society or the Council, or his office may require. He shall keep a true account of his receipts and payments, and at each annual meeting render the same to the Society.

BY-LAWS

For the faithful performance of his duty he may be required to give such security as the Society may deem proper.

SECTION V

REGISTRAR

The Registrar shall receive from the Secretary and file all the proofs upon which membership has been granted, with a list of all diplomas countersigned by him, and all documents which the Society may obtain; and he, under direction of the Council, shall make copies of such papers as the owners may not be willing to leave in the keeping of the Society.

SECTION VI

HISTORIAN

The Historian shall keep a detailed record of all historical and commemorative celebrations of the Society, and he shall edit and prepare for publication such historical addresses, papers and other documents as the Society may set fit to publish, also a necrological list for each year, with biographies of deceased members. The Historian shall be ex-officio chairman of the Historical Documents Committee.

CHAPLAIN

The Chaplain shall be an ordained minister of a Christian Church, and it shall be his duty to officiate when called upon by the proper officers.

BY-LAWS

SECTION VIII

CHANCELLOR AND VICE-CHANCELLOR

The Chancellor and Vice-Chancellor shall be lawyers duly admitted to the bar, and it shall be their duty to give legal opinion on matters affecting the Society when called upon by the proper officers.

SECTION IX

SURGEONS

The Surgeons shall be practicing physicians and surgeons.

SECTION X

GENEALOGIST

The Genealogist shall investigate all applications for membership, and also all claims under supplemental application, and shall report the result of his investigations to the Committee on Membership. He shall be a member of the said Committee and of the Council ex-officio.

SECTION XI

THE COUNCIL

The Council shall have power to call special Courts of the Society, and arrange for celebrations by the Society. They shall have control and management of the affairs and funds of the Society. They shall perform such duties as shall be prescribed by the Constitution and By-Laws, but they shall at no time be required to take any action or contract any debt for which they shall be liable. They may accept the resignation of any member of the Society. They may meet as often as required, or at the call of the Governor. Seven Gentlemen of the Council (elected or ex-officio members) shall be a quorum for the transaction of business. At the General Court they shall submit to the Society a report of their proceedings during the past year. The Council shall have the power to drop from the roll the name of any member of the Society who shall be at least six months* in arrears and shall fail on proper notice to pay the same within thirty days, and on being dropped his membership shall cease, but he may be restored to membership at any time by the Council upon his written application and the payment of all such arrears from the date when he was dropped to the date of his restoration. The Council may suspend any officer for cause, which must be reported to the Society and action taken on the same within thirty days.

BY-LAWS

SECTION XII

VACANCIES AND TERMS OF OFFICE

Whenever an officer of this Society shall die, resign, or neglect to serve, or be suspended, or be unable to perform his duties by reason of absence, sickness, or other cause, and whenever an office shall be vacant which the Society shall not have filled by an election, the Council shall have power to appoint a member to such office pro tempore, who shall act in such capacity until the Society shall elect a member to the vacant office, or until the inability due to said cause shall cease; provided, however, that the office of Governor or Secretary shall not be filled by the Council when there shall be a Deputy or Lieutenant Governor or Deputy Secretary to enter on these duties. The Council may supply vacancies among its members under the same conditions, and should any member other than an officer be absent from three consecutive Councils of the same, his place may be declared vacant by the Council and filled by appointment until an election of a successor. Subject to these provisions, all Officers and Gentlemen of the Council shall from the time of election continue in their respective offices until the next General Court, or until their successors are chosen. Vacancies among the Officers, in the Council or the Committees, shall be filled by the Council. The Council shall have power to declare a vacancy and fill the same in any Committee where the member of the Committee fails to attend to the duties of the Committee.

* Amended November 13, 1914.

BY-LAWS

SECTION XIII

RESIGNATION

No resignation of any member shall become effective unless consented to by the Council.

SECTION XIV

DISQUALIFICATION

No person who may be enrolled as a member of this Society shall be permitted to continue in membership when his proofs of descent or eligibility shall be found to be defective. The Council, after thirty days' notice to such person to substantiate his claim, and upon his failure satisfactorily so to do, may require the Secretary to erase his name from the membership list. The said person shall have a right to appeal to the Society at its next Court, or at the General Court. If the said appeal is sustained by a two-thirds vote of the members present at such Court, the said person's name shall be restored to said membership list.

SECTION XV

MEMBERSHIP

Members shall be elected by ballot at a meeting of the Council, after report by the Membership Committee; but a negative vote of one in five of the ballots cast shall exclude any candidate.

SECTION XVI

COMMITTEE ON MEMBERSHIP

The Committee on Membership shall consist of seven members. They shall be chosen by ballot at the General Court of the Society, and shall be elected for the period of one year. Four members shall constitute a quorum, and a negative vote of three members shall cause an adverse report to the Council on the candidate's application. The proceedings of the Committee shall be secret and confidential, and a candidate who has been rejected by the Council shall be ineligible for membership for a space of one year from date of rejection, except upon the unanimous vote of the Committee.

BY-LAWS

The Committee shall have power to make By-Laws for its government and for other purposes not inconsistent with the Constitution or By-Laws of the Society.

SECTION XVII

COMMITTEE ON HISTORICAL DOCUMENTS

The Committee on Historical Documents may, in connection with the Historian, who shall be ex-officio the Chairman, prepare papers on matters of interest to the Society, shall use their efforts to secure for the Society original documents, muster rolls, and other papers or articles connected with the colonial history of the country; they shall be empowered to correspond in the name of the Society with individuals, societies and governments, in the course of their investigations, and shall keep a record of their transactions.

SECTION XVIII

COMMITTEE ON INSTALLATION

The Committee on Installation shall have charge of the annual election, and shall install the persons elected; they shall also be the Stewards of the Society's banquets, but must present to the Governor of the Society a list of all speakers and invited guests for his approval; they shall have the power to select places for the banquets and to issue tickets for the same, but shall assume no expense without the approval of the Council.

SECTION XIX

EXPULSION OR SUSPENSION

Any member for cause or conduct detrimental or antagonistic to the interest or purposes of the Society, or for just cause, may be suspended or expelled from the Society. But no member shall be expelled or suspended unless written charges be presented against such member to the Council. The Council shall give reasonable notice of such charges and afford such member reasonable opportunity to be heard and refute the same. The Council, after hearing such charges, may recommend to the Society the expulsion or suspension of such member, and if the recommendation of the Council be adopted by a majority vote of the members of the Society present at such Court, he shall be so expelled or suspended, and the insignia of said member shall thereupon be returned to the Treasurer of the Society and his rights therein shall be extinguished or suspended. The Treasurer shall refund to said member the amount paid for the said insignia.

BY-LAWS

SECTION XX

COURTS

The General Court of the Society shall be held on the anniversary of the Great Swamp Fight, December 19, 1675. A Business Court shall be held on the second Thursday in November and on the third Monday in March.*

If the above days fall on a Sunday or legal holiday, then the General Court and Business Courts shall be held on the following Monday.

Special Courts may be called by the Governor at such times as in his opinion the interest of the Society may demand, and must be called by the Secretary on the written request of nine members. All notice of Courts shall be sent out at least ten days before the date of such Courts.

At special meetings the consent of two-thirds of the members present shall be necessary to constitute a vote.

Fifteen members shall be necessary to constitute a quorum, except in cases where a larger number may be required by the Constitution or By-Laws for any special act.

At each Court of the Society, immediately after the presiding officer shall have taken the chair, the minutes of the previous

* Amended March 21, 1910.

BY-LAWS

meeting shall be read by the Secretary, and passed upon by the Society; the next business in order shall be reports of officers and committees; then new business.

Any member having observations to make or resolutions to propose, shall rise in his place and address the Chair, and all resolutions shall be submitted in writing and handed to the Secretary, and shall be by him entered on the minutes.

SECTION XXIII

SERVICE OF NOTICE

It shall be the duty of every member to inform the Secretary, by written communication, of his place of residence and of any change thereof, and of his post-office address. Service of any notice under the Constitution or By-Laws on any member, addressed to his last residence or post-office address, forwarded by mail, shall be sufficient service of notice.

SECTION XXII

CERTIFICATE OF MEMBERSHIP

Members may receive a certificate of membership, which shall be signed by the Governor, Secretary and Registrar.

SECTION XXIII

DECEASE OF MEMBERS

Upon the decease of any member, notice thereof and of the time and place of the funeral, with a request to the members to attend, shall be published by the Secretary at least once in one daily newspaper in the city of New York. Any member who becomes aware of the death of a fellow member shall make it his duty to see that the Secretary is properly notified of the fact.

BY-LAWS

SECTION XXIV

LOCAL SECRETARIES

When ten or more members of the Society shall be residents of a city of the State of New York, one of their number may be appointed Local Secretary. Subject to the regulation and direction of the Council, a Local Secretary may, in conjunction with the members locally resident, arrange local commemorations of men and events of Colonial History, and attend to such other matters as by the Council may be expressly committed to him from time to time.

A Local Secretary shall be appointed by the Council annually, and may be removed by it for cause. He shall communicate with and receive communications from the Council through the Secretary.

SECTION XXV

ALTERATION OR AMENDMENT

No alteration or amendment of the By-Laws shall be made unless notice shall have been duly given in writing, signed by the member proposing the same, at a Court of the Society.

The Secretary shall send a printed copy of the proposed amendment to the members of the Society, and state the Court at which the same will be voted upon. No amendment or alteration shall be made unless adopted by a two-thirds vote of the members present at the Court voting upon the same.

INCEPTION OF THE SOCIETY

On July 10th, 1892, there met at the office of Col. T. Waln-Morgan Draper, No. 45 Broadway, New York, Col. Draper, S. Victor Constant, Esq., and Edward Trenchard, Esq., and at that time the organization of a "Society of Colonial Wars" was first considered. Two more preliminary meetings were held at the office of Mr. Constant, No. 120 Broadway, and on August 18th, 1892, the Society was instituted there. The certificate of incorporation was then presented, bearing the names of ten founders: Messrs. Charles H. Murray, T. Waln-Morgan Draper, Frederick E. Haight, and Samuel Victor Constant of New York, Nathan G. Pond, Satterlee Swartwout, and George M. Gunn of Connecticut, Edward C. Miller and Charles E. Miller of New Jersey, and Howard R. Bayne of Virginia. These gentlemen, with the exception of Edward C. Miller, Esq., were made the members of the board of governors, and the following temporary officers were elected, to serve until the First General Court: Hon. Charles H. Murray, Chairman, Col. T. Waln-Morgan Draper, Secretary, S. Victor Constant, Esq., Treasurer, and Frederick E. Haight, Esq., Historian.

No more meetings were held until October 18th, 1892, when the board met at the office of Mr. Murray, 115 Broadway, New York. On November 10th, in the same place, the Committee on Membership, consisting of Mr. Haight, Chairman, Col. Draper, Secretary, and Mr. Murray, reported that the application papers of twenty-seven candidates had been passed upon. Thereupon these gentlemen were elected to the Society as the first members.

It was at this time that the undress insignia was adopted, a small bow knot of British scarlet, to be worn in the left lapel of the coat. Thirty-five of these decorations were made by Mrs. T. Waln-Morgan Draper of ribbon one-eighth of an inch wide in a one-inch bow, and worn until the present rosette and insignia were adopted. The colors of the Society were later changed to scarlet and white, more closely following the Colonial uniform.

At the next three meetings, held in Mr. Murray's office, the Constitution and By-Laws were adopted and thirty-eight more members were elected.

The First General Court was held at Delmonico's old restaurant, 26th Street and 5th Avenue, on December 19th, 1892, the anniversary of the Great Swamp Fight of 1675, a date still observed for this assembly. Forty members voted for the first officers of the Society. The first Governor was Frederic J. de Peyster, Esq.; the Secretary, Howland Pell, Esq.

The Council had no fixed meeting-place for some years. The offices of Mr. Murray, Arthur M. Hatch, Esq., T. J. Oakley Rhinelander, Esq., Ludlow Ogden, Esq., George R. Schieffelin, Esq., and others were often used, and frequently meetings were held in the evening at the residences of the officers. Mr. de Peyster, Mr. Pell, David Banks, Jr., Esq., James William Beekman, Esq., De Forest Grant, Esq., General James M. Varnum, and others in this way opened their homes to the board.

From 1892 to 1895, the business office of the Society was with the Secretary, Mr. Pell, at Nos. 4 and 6 Warren Street, New York.

On December 19th, 1895, the Society moved into the first office of its own, Room No. 111, 37 Liberty Street, New York. This room was meant for the convenience of the members and the Council did not meet there more than a few times. A second move was made on April 5th, 1897, when Room 62, 45 William Street, was occupied, and these quarters were held until May 1st, 1914, when the present suite of three rooms at 43 Cedar Street was leased.

NECROLOGY

JAMES JUNIUS GOODWIN

New York, 516

General, 978

James Junius Goodwin, the son of James and Lucy (Morgan) Goodwin, was born in Hartford, Connecticut, on September 16, 1835, and was elected to membership in this Society on March 29, 1895. He was of distinguished New England ancestry with twelve ancestors recorded with the Society as men of affairs in the Colonial period. His original application named Joseph Morgan who served at Crown Point in 1755, at Fort William Henry in 1757, and on the expedition to Canada of 1758.

Mr. Goodwin was educated at private schools and at the Hartford High School. In later years he was a trustee of Trinity College and received from that institution in 1910 the degree of LL. D.

After a clerkship in Hartford, Mr. Goodwin went abroad for a year and a half and returned to engage in New York in foreign trade. He was afterwards asked by his cousin, Mr. John Pierpont Morgan, to join in his banking firm and he remained as a partner in that great financial organization until 1871 when he retired.

Mr. Goodwin was a director in several Insurance Companies and other corporations. He was also a member of the Board of Trustees of the New York Genealogical and Biographical Society, a warden of Christ church in Hartford, and a vestryman and warden of Calvary Church in New York. He was a Vice-President for twenty-two years of the Connecticut Historical Society. In New York he belonged to the New York Historical Society, Union Club, Century Association, Metropolitan, Church and City Clubs, and in Hartford to several local organizations.

Mr. Goodwin died on June 23, 1915. His widow was Josephine Sarah Lippincott of Philadelphia. Three sons, Walter L., James L., and Philip L. survive him.

THOMAS HUBBARD STRYKER

New York, 621

General, 1261

Thomas Hubbard Stryker, who died on August 26, 1916, in Rome, New York, joined the Society on December 27, 1895, as a descendant of Captain Jan Stryker of Midwout, New Netherland.

His parents were John and Frances Elizabeth (Hubbard) Stryker and he was born in Rome, New York, on November 14, 1847. His life was lived in the town of his birth. After graduation from the Rome Academy and Hobart College (A. B., 1868), he entered into business there, where he became a civil engineer, the President of the Rome Locomotive and Machine Works, and president of a local bank.

He had never married.

CHARLES HENRY MURRAY

New York, 3

General, 3

The Society was particularly indebted to Judge Murray as one of the ten founders of the Society. His was the first signature on the certificate of incorporation of August 18, 1892, and it was he who served as the temporary chairman of the Society until the First General Court on December 19, 1892.

Charles Henry Murray was born on January 2, 1855, in San Francisco, California, the son of Henry Kennedy and Abbie Sheldon (Billings) Murray. His parents were citizens of New York but his ancestors largely of New England. His first claim in the Society was as a descendant of Captain George Denison who led Connecticut troops against King Philip, and his sixteen supplemental claims included Major General Robert Sedgwick and Elder William Brewster.

He was educated in the Mount Pleasant Academy and admitted to the bar in 1876. He early became interested in politics and held throughout a long and active life many positions of trust. He was leader of the Eighth Assembly District, President of the Lincoln League, executive member of the Republican County Committee, Chairman of the Ninth Congressional Committee, a delegate to the Republican National Conventions from 1888 to 1912 and to the State Conventions from 1886 to 1912, Supervisor of the Census in 1890, Republican candidate for District Attorney in 1893, Special Assistant United States District Attorney in 1892, Police Commissioner of New York in 1894, Aqueduct Commissioner of New York, 1897, Quarantine Commissioner for New York State in 1901, Chairman of the Republican County Committee in 1904, and Judge of the New York County Court of Claims for 1915—1916.

Judge Murray was a member of the Sons of the Revolution, Sons of the American Revolution, Military Order of Foreign Wars, Military Society of the War of 1812, the Loyal Legion, Huguenot Society, Saint Nicholas Society, Bar Association, and the Republican and New York Athletic Clubs.

He died on September 6, 1916, in New York City, and was survived by his widow, who was Dr. Grace Peckham.

FREDERICK SHELDON PARKER

New York, 950

General, 2578

Frederick Sheldon Parker was elected to the Society October 28 1898, as a descendant of Captain James Newton of the Connecticut Colonial militia. He later recorded his lines from forty other colonial dignitaries, including Governor William Bradford and Lieut. Col. William Whiting.

Mr. Parker was born in New Haven, Connecticut, on July 26, 1852, the son of Frederick Sheldon and Martha (Newton) Parker. He graduated from Hopkins Grammar School in New Haven and entered Yale. In 1873 he took the Yale degree of B. A. and in 1876 graduated from Columbia Law School as an LL. B. Between his Yale and Columbia courses, he had in New Haven a year of graduate work in history and English literature.

He entered upon the practice of law in New York, and after a period as a student and managing clerk with Blatchford, Seward, Griswold and Da Costa, he became in 1878 an Assistant District Attorney. From 1880 on he was in the law partnership of Taylor and Parker until he formed the firm of Parker and Aaron. He became a consulting attorney of much distinction.

Outside his profession his great interest was in Napoleons and his collection, left on his death to Yale, was one of the largest in the country. He wrote and edited on the subject with great authority. Frequent trips were made to Europe in the pursuit of his studies.

Mr. Parker was Secretary of his class at Yale until 1876. He was a member of many clubs, including the Union, Union League, Metropolitan, and University of New York, Hamilton and Crescent Athletic of Brooklyn, also of the Psi Upsilon fraternity and the Wolf's Head Society. He belonged to the Society of Mayflower Descendants and the Sons of the Revolution. For many years he was a vestryman of Grace Church in Brooklyn.

His marriage to Josephine Mason Hill came in 1876. Mrs. Parker and his only son died in 1879. Mr. Parker's own death came on September 9, 1916, in Brooklyn, New York and he was buried in Greenwood Cemetery, Brooklyn.

FRANK McMILLON STANTON

New York, 1242

General, 3595

As a descendant of Nicasius de Sille, captain of the New Amsterdam Burgher Corps and Councillor to Governor Petrus

Stuyvesant, Frank McMillon Stanton was admitted to membership on October 29, 1903.

He was the son of John Stanton and his wife Elizabeth Romaine McMillan and was born in New York City on May 23, 1865. In 1887 he graduated from the Columbia School of Mines and entered on his profession as an assayer and surveyor. He shortly went into mining independently and acquired large properties in the Lake Superior copper region. For twenty-three years he was Superintendent of the Atlantic Mining Company. At the time of his death, which came at his home at Whitestone, Long Island, on September 12, 1916, he was Treasurer of the Mohawk and Wolverine Mining Company and an officer or director in a number of corporations. He belonged to the American Society of Civil Engineers, American Institute of Mining Engineers, American Society of Mechanical Engineers, American Museum of Natural History, American Forestry Association, Seventh Regiment Veteran Association, Sons of the Revolution, and the following clubs: Engineers, Union League, Columbia Yacht and New York Athletic of New York and the Chicago Athletic of Chicago. At one time he served in Company "A" of the Seventh Infantry, N. Y. N. G.

Mr. Stanton married Kathryn Marie Rodolf, who survived him.

ANDREW CHRISTIAN ZABRISKIE

New York, 1607.

General, 4946

The death of Mr. Zabriskie came on September 15, 1916, at his country place in Barrytown, Dutchess County, New York. He had been a member of the Society since December 26, 1912. Elected in right of descent from the early Huguenot, Joris Jansen de Rapalje, he also had on record nineteen other claims, showing relationship with many notable early families of New York and Long Island. Mr. Zabriskie was a direct male descendant of Albrecht Zaborowski, probably the only Pole in New Amsterdam and a settler of distinguished lineage.

The son of Christian Andrew and Sarah Jane (Titus) Zab-riskie; Andrew C. Zabriskie was born in Pompton, N. J. on March 6, 1806. His education was received in private schools and in the School of Mines of Columbia. He inherited from his parents large properties in New York and New Jersey and his chief occupation was the management of his estate. He, however, had many interests. In politics, he served as a member of the Democratic State Executive Committee, as chairman of the Dutchess County Board of Supervisors, and was a Democratic nominee for Congress in 1908. He was widely known as an authority on numismatic subjects and served as president of the American Numismatic and Archaeological Society from 1895 to 1905 and as Honorary President to the time of his death. In 1873 he entered the Seventh Infantry, N. Y. N. G., and later became captain of "C" Company, 71st Infantry, and Inspector of Rifle Practice, resigning in 1898. He was again commissioned a captain in the State Guard in 1916. He took a deep interest in charitable work and served as Vice-President of the House of Rest for consumptives, President of the Trustees of the church of St. John the Evangelist in Barrytown, and a Trustee of the Sheltering Arms and of the Parochial Fund of the Protestant Episcopal church. He founded the Junior American Guard. He was well-known in certain circles as a breeder of fine cattle and fancy poultry. He wrote extensively on numismatic and antiquarian subjects.

Mr. Zabriskie belonged to many clubs and societies, including the Union, Metropolitan, City, Army and Navy, Church, and Riding clubs of New York, the Holland Society, Saint Nicholas Society, Military Society of the War of 1812, Huguenot Society, Sons of the Revolution, American Geographical Society, New York Historical Society, and Metropolitan Museum.

On June 6, 1895, he was married to Frances Hunter, and Mrs. Zabriskie and two children, Christian A. Zabriskie and Mrs. E. Powis Jones, survive him.

SAMUEL HEMPSTEAD VALENTINE

General, 382

Born on May 4, 1846, in Poughkeepsie, New York, the death of Samuel Hempstead Valentine on September 15, 1916, at Narragansett Pier, Rhode Island, came in his seventy-first year. He was the son of Samuel M. and Elizabeth (Hempstead) Valentine and joined the Society on March 30, 1894, as a descendant of Captain James Avery who led New London troops in King Philip's War. He was also descended from Col. Benjamin Valentine, a dragoon in the Colonial service.

A graduate of Amherst College in 1866 and of the Columbia Law School, he was for much of his life a practicing attorney in New York City, being a member of the firm of Benedict, Taft, and Benedict. He retired from the active practice of his profession in 1885.

He was a founder of the Aero Club of America, and a member of the Metropolitan Club, the Automobile Club of America, and the Point Judith Country Club of Narragansett Pier. He also belonged to the Sons of the Revolution and was a veteran of the Seventh Infantry, N. Y. N. G.

Mr. Valentine married in Hartford, Connecticut, on Feb. 2, 1881, Eliza Williams Porter who survives him.

DONALD WATKINS STRONG

New York, 483

General, 936

Captain Donald Watkins Strong, Infantry, United States Army, died in the town of his birth, Oneonta, New York, on September 23, 1916. He was an early member of the Society, his election coming on January 25, 1895.

He was the son of Horatio Griffin and Caroline (Watkins) Strong of Oneonta, where he was born on February 3, 1868. Educated at the local High School, the Vermont Episcopal Institute at Burlington, and the Pennsylvania Military Academy at Chester, Pa., he had married and was residing in California when the Spanish-American War came. He enlisted as a private in a California regiment and went to the Philippines. He quickly rose through the non-commissioned grades to a second lieutenantcy. At the close of the war he secured the same rank in the artillery branch of the regular army and was ordered to Cuba. His transfer to the Seventh Infantry came shortly afterwards and he remained assigned to this regiment until the time of his death.

He was stationed at various army posts during his service and for a considerable period remained at the army school at Fort Leavenworth, Kansas, as Secretary of the Army Service Board. In 1914 he was ordered to the Mexican border and remained there until his health forced a visit to surgeons in New York. He died following an operation. He had been promoted to Captain on July 1, 1916.

Captain Strong was survived by his wife, who was Martha E. Murdock of Oneonta.

He was prominent in Masonic circles, being a thirty-second degree Mason, a member of the Mystic Shrine, and a former Master of Lodge No. 311, F. & A. M. of Leavenworth.

His ancestor in the Society of Colonial Wars was Captain Joseph Crafts of Roxbury, Mass.

WILLIAM LEMUEL SKIDMORE

New York, 330

General, 330

In his eighty-second year, William Lemuel Skidmore, died at his New York home, 39 West 52nd Street, on October 29, 1916. He was an early member of this Society being elected on December 29, 1893, qualifying by right of descent from Captain Thomas Lake, slain by the Indians at Kennebeck in 1676. The services of another ancestor, Lieut. Thomas Skidmore, were also on record.

Mr. Skidmore was the son of Burtis and Eliza A. (Wright) Skidmore and was born in New York City on May 6, 1835. Educated at Columbia College Grammar School, he early entered upon a business career in New York. He became President of the Columbia Bank and served in that office until his retirement.

He was a man of many charities and for a long period gave especially devoted service to the Northern Dispensary acting as a trustee for twenty-eight years, and from 1897 to 1904 as vice-president. He was deeply interested in the charitable work of the Collegiate Church of St. Nicholas.

As a member of the staff of Governor Edwin D. Morgan, being Military Secretary, with rank of Major, he had among other important assignments the duty of receiving the Prince of Wales, later King Edward VII, on his visit to New York. Major Skidmore also acted for a time as Brigade Inspector of the Fourth Brigade, N. Y. N. G.

He was married to Helen Augusta Beadleston, who died in 1907 and is survived only by two daughters, Mrs. W. Henry Harrison and Mrs. Henry S. Mann.

Mr. Skidmore belonged to the Rockaway Hunt and Saint Nicholas Clubs of New York, and to the Colonial Order and the Saint Nicholas Society.

GEORGE JONATHAN BASCOM

New York, 947

General, 2575

The death of George Jonathan Bascom came on November 1, 1916, in New York City. He had been a member of the Society since October 28, 1898, being a descendant of John Webster, a Colonial Governor of Connecticut.

Mr. Bascom was a native of Brooklyn, being born there on April 11, 1845, the son of Jonathan and Mary Ann (Holbrook) Bascom. His business activities were centered in the firm of Tyson and Company which he founded and of which he remained President to the time of his death. This company operated news-stands and ticket agencies in twenty-two hotels in New York City and in the Copley-Plaza of Boston. He was also President of the George J. Bascom tobacco business with a store and stands in Boston. He was the owner and Treasurer of the Breslin Hotel Company of New York.

Mr. Bascom entered company "I", 71st Infantry, N. Y. N. G. and served ten years, leaving the regiment as Captain of the Company. He was a major in the 171st Infantry, organized during the Spanish-American war, and a member of the Old Guard of New York and the Ancient and Honorable Artillery Company of Boston.

His clubs were the New York Yacht, Atlantic Yacht, Larchmont Yacht, Army and Navy, and New York Athletic of New York, and the Point Shirley of Boston. He was a member of the Masonic Order and belonged to the Sons of the American Revolution, the Metropolitan Museum of Art, and the New York Hotel Association.

A son, George Jonathan Bascom, Jr., survives him.

GEORGE AUSTIN MORRISON

New York, 471

General, 878

George Austin Morrison died suddenly on November 30, 1916, in New York City. He was a man of highly varied interests, stricken early in a very useful career.

Mr. Morrison, the son of George Austin and Lucy Anne (King) Morrison, was born in New York City on March 26, 1864, and received his early education from private tutors and at the Cutler School in New York. He graduated from Harvard A. B. cum laude in 1887 and as an LL.B. from Columbia Law School in 1889. While studying law at Columbia he took special courses in political science leading to a degree of A. M. in 1888. For five years he served in the New York offices of Coudert Brothers and Olin, Rives and Montgomery, before opening in 1897 an office of his own. He practiced law alone until 1916 except for an association for five years with his brother, Charles King Morrison. Early in the year of his death he became Treasurer of the Metals Trading Corporation of New York, and of the United Zinc & Smelting Corporation.

His interest in musical and dramatic matters was deep and he wrote the plays for the Columbia University Dramatic Club from 1888 to 1892 and composed two comic operas. He was one of the best amateur baritone singers in New York and his voice was much in demand.

Always interested in family history his first published work was the "King Genealogy" (1898). In 1900 he brought out the "De Camp Genealogy", in 1903 his important "Clarke Families of Rhode Island", and in 1906 an exhaustive "Memorial History of the Saint Andrew's Society of the State of New York, 1756-1906". He was a frequent contributor to the "New York Genealogical and Biographical Record".

The historical and hereditary societies had great appeal for him and he was active in many of them. As his father, a native Scot, had done before him, he served faithfully the venerable Saint Andrew's Society, being Secretary from 1894 to 1909 and President from 1911 to 1914. He served on the Board of Managers of the New York Sons of the Revolution; and as Chairman of the Executive Committee, Trustee, Treasurer, Vice-President, Chairman of the Publication Committee and Editor of the "Record" for the New York Genealogical and Biographical Society. He was a member of the Rhode Island State Society of the Cincinnati, the Saint Nicholas Society, New York Historical Society, St. George's Society, and the Military Society of the War of 1812. For the last few years of his life he was active in the Veteran Corps of Artillery. His New York clubs were the Metropolitan and Lawyers.

His election to the Society of Colonial Wars came on December 28, 1894, when he entered as a descendant of John Johnson of Roxbury, Massachusetts, a member of the Ancient and Honorable Artillery Company of Boston. Some years later he filed eight additional lines, chiefly from Englishmen of Rhode Island and Hollanders of New Netherland.

Mr. Morrison is survived by his widow, Magdalen Sophrona Worden, to whom he was married in 1912, and by a brother, Charles King Morrison, a member of the Society of Colonial Wars.

CHARLES FRANKLIN BASSETT

New York, 200

General, 200

The death of Charles Franklin Bassett came on December 20, 1916, at his home in Summit, New Jersey. He had been a member of the Society since March 15, 1893, being a descendant of Colonel William Bassett of Plymouth Colony. He had recorded the services of six other Colonial ancestors including Governor Edward Winslow and Elder William Brewster.

Mr. Bassett was born on October 9, 1862, in Lee, Massachusetts, the son of Ansel and Elizabeth (Johnson) Bassett. He became prominent in business circles in New York City as a member of the paper firm of Bassett & Sutphin and a director in several corporations, including the Franklin Trust Company, Importers & Traders National Bank and Celluloid Company. He was a vice-president of the East River Savings Institution.

His club membership included the Union League and Down Town Association of New York, Hamilton Club of Brooklyn, Highland Club of Summit, Baltusrol Golf Club, and Canoe Brook Country Club. He also belonged to the New York Chamber of Commerce and New England Society.

Mr. Bassett was married on June 4, 1893, to Carolyn Hulbert, who survives him with two children, Hulbert Dymoke and Elizabeth Hulbert Bassett.

THOMAS NEWTON WOOD

New York, 397

General, 397

Colonel Thomas Newton Wood, United States Marine Corps, Retired, died at his home in Washington, D. C., on December 23, 1916. Born on October 11, 1854, in Petersville, Maryland, the son of William W. W. and Mary Liley Crabb (Gillespie) Wood, his life was spent in the Navy and Marine Corps.

He was a Cadet Midshipman from June 10, 1871 to Feb. 4, 1875 when he resigned from the Navy. On July 1, 1876, he entered the Marine Corps as a second lieutenant and rose through the various grades becoming colonel on February 1, 1906. He was retired for disability incidental to the service on May 22, 1911. Colonel Wood then had served over twelve years at sea, over two years foreign service, and over twenty years on other duty. He had been with the European and South Pacific Squadrons, served in the Philippines and the Canal Zone, and in the Spanish War was on the U. S. S. Massachusetts. His last duty was as Commandant of the Marine Barracks at the Boston Navy Yard.

Mrs. Wood, who was Kate Corcoran Thorn, and a daughter, survived him.

Thomas Newton Wood was admitted as a member of this Society on May 30, 1894, as a descendant of Richard Callaway, Captain of Virginia troops in 1755 and Colonel in the Revolution.

NATHANIEL BLUNT THURSTON

New York, 970

General, 2653

Colonel Nathaniel Blunt Thurston had been a member of the Society since February 24, 1899, when he was admitted as a descendant of Major General Humphrey Atherton of the Colonial forces of Massachusetts.

Nathaniel Blunt Thurston was born in New York City on April 12, 1852, the son of Alfred Henry and Eliza Strong (Blunt) Thurston. He died at McAllen, Texas, on January 15, 1917, when commanding officer of the 74th Infantry, N. G. N. Y.

Colonel Thurston devoted most of his life to the National Guard and performed distinguished service for his State as an Officer. At the age of twenty-one he first entered the Guard, enlisting as a private in the 22nd Infantry. He rapidly rose through the non-commissioned grades and became Lieutenant in 1880, Captain in 1886 and Major in 1896. He was Lieutenant Colonel in the same Regiment when war came with Spain and served as a volunteer officer from May 1898 to November 23, 1898, in garrison duty at Fort Slocum, New York Harbor. From 1885 to 1895 he had been instructor of guard duty and infantry drill at the State Camp at Peekskill. He had also been inspector of Small Arms Practice and Chief Ordnance Officer of the State, from 1898 to 1914.

In 1914 Colonel Thurston assumed command of the Thirteenth Coast Artillery Command and later of the First Field Artillery. When the National Guard was ordered to the Mexican border he became Colonel of the 74th Infantry. He had been in command of two regiments of Infantry, one of coast artillery and one of field artillery and had everywhere shown his great capabilities as organizer and leader.

Colonel Thurston was First Deputy Police Commissioner of New York for a year in the Administration of Mayor Seth Low and was a valued friend of the Fire Department with an honorary appointment as Battalion Chief.

The funeral services were held in New York and the honorary pall bearers were Governor Charles S. Whitman, Major General John F. O'Ryan, Major General Charles F. Roe, Major General Daniel Appleton, Brigadier General Louis W. Stotesbury, Brigadier General George R. Dyer, Brigadier General Henry D. Hamilton, Brigadier General Nelson H. Henry, Colonel George A. Wingate, Fire Chief John Kenlon, former Fire Chief Edward F. Croker, and Fire Commissioner Robert Adamson.

Col. Thurston was a member of the Sons of the Revolution, Order of Founders and Patriots, and Order of Spanish-American War, and was Vice President of the New York State Rifle Association.

ABRAHAM RIKER LAWRENCE

New York, 84

General, 84

Justice Lawrence died on February 14, 1917, at his home, 69 Washington Place, New York City, and was buried in the Saint Lawrence Cemetery on the Shore Road, Queens, Long Island, a private burying ground on the original family grant, where five generations of his ancestors are interred.

Abraham Riker Lawrence was one of the earliest members of the Society, being elected on December 15, 1892, and he had served as the first Chancellor of the Society, 1893-1897, and as a Lieutenant Governor, 1897-1898. He was a descendant of Colonel William Smith, Major Thomas Lawrence, and General Nathaniel Woodhull, all of Long Island.

Born on September 19, 1832 in New York City, the son of the Hon. John L. and Sarah Augusta (Smith) Lawrence, he was educated by private tutors and at private schools. He studied law at the Ballston Law School and in the office of Judge Jasper Gilbert and in 1853 was admitted to the bar. He was at once appointed an Assistant to the Corporation Counsel and served until 1856 and again from 1857 to 1858. He early attained distinction in legal circles by his publication in 1863 of a compilation entitled "Tax Laws of the State of New York". In 1867 he was a member of the Constitutional Convention and in 1872 was the Tammany nominee for Mayor of New York, after he had been a factor in the overthrow of the Tweed Ring. He was elected a Justice of the Supreme Court in 1873, re-elected in 1887 and served from January 1, 1874, to December 31, 1901, when he retired to private practice. Since 1911 he had been an official referee of the Supreme Court.

Not only did Justice Lawrence give his valuable services to the Society of Colonial Wars as an officer, but he was a highly successful President of the Saint Nicholas Society for two terms, 1882 and 1883. He was a founder of the Bar Association of the City of New York and its Vice-President in 1905 and 1906. His clubs were the Union, Century and Manhattan.

Mrs. Lawrence, who was Eliza Miner, died in 1915, and Justice Lawrence was survived by two children, William Miner Lawrence and Ruth Lawrence.

CHARLES PRICE BRITTON

New York, 372

General, 372

The son of William Audley and Mary Ann (Adams) Britton, Charles Price Britton was born in Kent, Connecticut, on June 27, 1845. His death came on February 27, 1917, in New York City.

Mr. Britton had five claims to membership in the Society, the original application, on which he gained admission on March 30, 1894, being in the name of Governor Thomas Welles of Connecticut.

For forty-four years a member of the New York Stock Exchange, Mr. Britton was founder of the firm of brokers, Charles P. Britton & Company. He was not a college graduate but had been educated at private schools. While a young man he served for seven years in the Seventh Infantry, N. G. N. Y. He was a member of the Sons of the Revolution, the Union League Club, and The New York Historical Society.

Mrs. Britton, who was Caroline Berry, survives her husband together with three children, William Adams, Mary Marsh, and Henry Berry Britton.

JULIEN TOWNSEND DAVIES

New York, 409

General, 409

Julien Townsend Davies joined the Society on May 30, 1894, as a descendant of the famous Captain John Underhill. He later filed sixteen additional claims, including Col. Job Almy, Major Abraham Staats, Major General Daniel Gookin, and Lieut. Col. Edward Quincy.

Mr. Davies was the son of Julien Tappan and Alice (Martin) Davies, and was born on February 20, 1870, in New York. His home was always in that city but his death came in South Carolina on March 8, 1917.

A graduate of St. Paul's School at Concord in 1885, of Columbia in 1891, and the Harvard Law School in 1893, Mr. Davies was admitted to the New York bar in 1894 and practiced his profession to the time of his death. He was for many years a member of the firm of Davies, Auerbach and Cornell and acted also as President of the Bancroft Realty Company and as a director in a number of corporations.

He served at various times in the Knickerbocker Greys, the Seventh Regiment, and Squadron "A", and was a 1st Lieutenant in the 12th Infantry, N. G. N. Y.

His clubs were the Union, University, New York Yacht, and Down Town Association, and he also belonged to the Sons of the Revolution, St. David's Society, and the Bar Association.

On November 22, 1894, he was married to Miss Marie Rose de Garmendia, who survives him with three children Julien Townsend, Jr., Mrs. Henry S. McKee, 2nd, and Phebe Thorne Davies.

BRAINERD PRESCOTT EMERY

New York, 432

General, 698

Brainerd Prescott Emery was elected to the Society on October 26, 1894, in right of the services of Col. Stephen Emery of the Massachusetts Colonial forces. He was also a descendant of Jonathan Emery, who served in King Philip's War and of Lieutenants Josiah and William Brainerd.

Mr. Emery was born on March 25, 1865, in Southport, Connecticut, his parents being Rev. Rufus and Adelaide (Brainerd) Emery. His early education took place at Siegel's Institute, Newburgh, N. Y., but ill health prevented a college course. He was, however, throughout his life a student of literature and had published two volumes of verse and many articles.

His greatest interest was in church matters and civic affairs in Newburyport, Connecticut, where most of his life was spent. For many years he was a vestryman of St. Paul's Church in that city and the representative of the Parish at the diocesan convention of Massachusetts. He was active in promoting the welfare of the Sunday School and the boys' choir. He was also Treasurer of All Saints Church in West Newbury, built by members of his family, and an active member of several local organizations.

Mr. Emery was a trustee of the Anna Jaques hospital of Newburyport and it was at this institution that his death came on March 12, 1917. He had never married and his surviving relatives are confined to aunts and cousins.

GEORGE DUNBAR SANFORD

New York, 1436

General, 4243

George Dunbar Sanford, was born on August 9, 1844, on an island opposite Troy, New York, the son of Watson and Ellen Maria (Viele) Sanford, and of Dutch descent. His three claims filed with the society were from early citizens of New Netherland; the original application on which his election came on October 29, 1908, being in the name of Samuel Pruyn who went out from Albany on active war service in 1715. General Sanford died on March 13, 1917, at Central Islip, Long Island.

George D. Sanford was long active in political and military affairs in New York State. He was a private in the 18th Regiment, New York State Militia in 1861, Assistant Quartermaster General, N. G. N. Y., with rank of Lieutenant Colonel, 1890-1891; and Commissary General of Subsistence, with rank of Brigadier General, 1892-1894. These last two appointments were made while he was a member of the staffs of Governors R. P. Flower, and D. B. Hill.

General Sanford served five years prior to 1870 as a volunteer fireman. He was a trustee of the village of Peekskill, New York, 1878-1881, President of the village in 1882, Delegate to the National Democratic Convention in 1884, chairman of the Democratic County Committee of Westchester County in 1891, and Auditor of the State Commission on Lunacy from 1893 on for over fifteen years.

His Society membership included the Masonic and allied orders, including the thirty-second degree, Odd Fellows, Knights of Pythias, Royal Arcanum, and the Mystic Shrine. He also belonged to the Chamber of Commerce of Albany, the Albany Institute, and the Aurania Club.

He married Mary Louise Cooley Wood who died before him.

CYRUS SWAN ROBERTS

New York, 711

General, 1479

Cyrus Swan Roberts, who died on March 19, 1917, at Long Beach, California, as a Brigadier General, Retired of the United States Army, had been a member of the Society since April 24, 1896, when he was admitted as a descendant of Governor William Bradford of Plymouth. He was also a descendant of Elder William Brewster, Captain George Denison and other colonial dignitaries.

He was the son of Virgil Beduff and Harriott R. (Swan) Roberts and was born on August 23, 1841, in Sharon, Connecticut. After a course at the Stratford Academy, Connecticut, he studied law at Poughkeepsie, New York, until the outbreak of the Civil War. In May, 1862, he enlisted in the 22nd New York Volunteer Infantry and served in that organization for three months. He then entered the 150th New York regiment and served as private, sergeant major, second lieutenant, and first lieutenant. In June, 1865, he was mustered out as Captain and aide-de-camp to General Crook. Brevets of Captain and Major of volunteers were given him in 1865 and as first Lieutenant and Captain in the regular establishment in 1867.

In 1866 he entered the regular Army as Second Lieutenant in the 17th Infantry and served in that regiment, seeing considerable Indian warfare, until the Spanish War, becoming Major in 1898. He was Lieutenant Colonel and Adjutant General of the Second Army Corps in the war, serving in Cuba and the Philippines. He became Colonel of the Second Infantry in 1901 and was retired as Brigadier General in 1903.

General Roberts was a member of the Loyal Legion (Ohio), Sons of the American Revolution, and of the Army and Navy Clubs of Washington, D. C., and Manila, P. I.

Mrs. Roberts, who was Nannie Du Val of Texas to whom he was married in 1870, died in 1904. A son, Colonel Charles Du Val Roberts, U. S. Army, and a daughter Laura Pearson, wife of Colonel Tilman Campbell, U. S. Army, survive.

HENRY EGLINTON MONTGOMERY SUCKLEY

New York, 1638

General, 5011

Henry E. M. Suckley was the first member of the Society to die in the World War. He was serving at Salonica in command of the New York Stock Exchange section of the American Field Ambulance Service when the hospital to which he was attached was bombarded from a German plane and Mr. Suckley was seriously wounded while in his quarters. He died the following day, March 26, 1917.

He had been among the earliest American volunteers in the war, arriving in France in November, 1915. His first service came in the Vosges and he later saw much active work on the other French fronts before going to the Balkans. He was recommended for the Legion of Honor by General Sarrail, commanding the allied troops.

Mr. Suckley was born on February 18, 1886, in Orange, New Jersey, the son of Robert Bowne and Elizabeth P. (Montgomery) Suckley, and a nephew of Henry Eglinton Montgomery; his father and uncle being members of this Society. He himself was elected on May 29, 1913, as a descendant of Colonel Robert Livingston, Lord of Livingston Manor. He was a graduate of Harvard, class of 1910, and a member of the Racquet and Tennis, Harvard, and Squadron "A" Clubs. He was unmarried.

EDWIN AUGUSTUS Mc ALPIN

New York, 1234

General, 3459

Edwin Augustus Mc Alpin, the son of David Hunter and Frances Adelaide (Rose) Mc Alpin, was born in New York

City, on June 9, 1848, and died at his country home at Ossining, N. Y., on April 12, 1917. He had been elected to the Society on April 30, 1903, as a descendant of Thomas Stanton, an official Indian interpreter in early Connecticut and a participant in the Pequot War.

After graduating from Phillips Academy of Andover, Mr. Mc Alpin entered the employ of his father, a prominent tobacco merchant, and continued with him until he himself became the head of the family business which was later sold to the American Tobacco company. He had many other financial interests, acting as Director in several corporations. The Mc Alpin Hotel in New York was named after him and he was largely concerned in its management.

In the National Guard General Mc Alpin rose to commands and responsibilities of very considerable distinction. As a boy he had twice enlisted as a drummer boy in the Union Army but was prevented by his father from serving. His first Guard service was a private in the Seventh Infantry, N. G. N. Y., which he entered in 1869. In 1874 he was commissioned a First Lieutenant in the Seventy-first Infantry, N. G. N. Y. and later rose in that regiment to be Captain, Major, and in 1885, Colonel. After almost eighteen years of service in the State troops he resigned but was brought back in 1895 by Governor Levi P. Morton to be The Adjutant General of the State with the rank of Major General, an office he held until 1897.

General Mc Alpin was always keenly interested in Republic party politics, and was a leader in the Republican Club. He was President of the New York State League from 1889 to 1892 and Treasurer of the Republican Campaign Committee. In 1884 he was an unsuccessful candidate for Congress. WILLIAM CONANT CHURCH

General, 3310

Lieutenant Colonel Church, U. S. Volunteers, had been elected to this Society on May 27, 1902, as a descendant of Roger Conant, Colonial Governor of the Colony at Cape Ann and of Salem. Col. Church was the son of the Rev. Dr. Pharellus and Clara Emily (Conant) Church and was born on August 11, 1836, in Rochester, New York. He was in his eighty-first year when he died on May 23, 1917 after sixty-two years of great activity, "a lifetime", said the New York "Sun", "full of usefulness and distinguished public service, without a blemish on it." At the funeral services at Grace Church in New York the pall-bearers included Major General Francis V. Greene, Rear Admiral Bradley A. Fiske, Rear Admiral Caspar F. Goodrich, Colonel Isaac N. Lewis and Major John Bigelow.

The father of Colonel Church was the publisher of The New York "Chronicle" and the young man aided him at first, later becoming the publisher himself at twenty-four. In the same year he became publisher of The New York "Sun", but withdrew in 1861, for a period of European travel. He was in Europe at the outbreak of the civil war but returning in July, 1861, he became a member of the joint military-naval expedition under General W. T. Sherman and Admiral S. F. Dupont, and was present at the capture of Port Royal. He returned north on the steamship Bienville, bearing the first news of the victory, and wrote the account of it for the New York Evening "Post".

Later he attached himself to the Army of the Potomac as a volunteer aid on the staff of General Silas Casey, participating in the battles of Williamsburg and Fair Oaks, being wounded in the former. He was soon after his recuperation appointed acting inspector and mustering officer of provisional brigades with the rank of Captain. In rapid succession came the brevets of Major and Lieutenant Colonel of Volunteers.

It was while he was on the staff of General Casey that the project of establishing a military paper was commenced and the assignment fell to Colonel Church, who resigned to accept it. With his brother, Francis P. Church, he began the publication of the "Army and Navy Journal" at 192 Broadway. Soon afterwards the draft riots broke out and he joined the civilian committee that assisted the Metropolitan police in putting down the riots.

The "Galaxy Magazine" was started by Colonel Church and his brother in 1869, the publication lasting ten years and then merging with the "Atlantic Monthly."

Colonel Church was the author of a "Life of John Ericsson" and one of Ulysses S. Grant and of numberless articles in leading magazines.

He was one of the founders of the National Rifle Association, and was its first President, as well as an honorary director for life. He was a Fellow in perpetuity of the Metropolitan Museum of Art and a Director of the New York Zoological Society, a member of the Military Order of the Loyal Legion of the United States and on the Executive Committee of the National Security League. His clubs were the Union League, Authors, Army and Navy, the Century Association, and the Players.

Colonel Church married Mary Elizabeth Metcalf and is survived by one son, Willard Church.

ROBERT BUNCH VAN CORTLANDT

New York, 184

General, 184

Robert Bunch Van Cortlandt, the son of Augustus and Charlotte Amelia Bayley (Bunch) Van Cortlandt, was born on August 14, 1862 and died at his country estate at Mount Kisco, N. Y., on February 18, 1918.

He had been a member of this Society since March 2, 1893 the only claim he had made, of the many to which his ancestry entitled him, being as a descendant of Colonel Oloff Stevense Van Cortlandt.

Mr. Van Cortlandt graduated from Columbia University at the early age of twenty. His business interests throughout his life were banking and land development. He had been a member of the firm of Kean, Van Cortlandt & Company,

President of the Kean, Van Cortlandt Realty Company and a director of the Lackawanna Steel Company and many other Corporations. He was a member of a commission of bankers sent abroad by President Wilson.

Mr. Van Cortlandt was always interested in the history and politics of Westchester County where he had his farm, and had been chairman of the Westchester Democratic Committee, a Presidential Elector, and President of the Westchester County Historical Society.

He was a member of Holland Lodge, No. 8, F. and A. M., of Delta Phi fraternity, and the following clubs—Knickerbocker, Union, Manhattan, Metropolitan, Down Town, City, Middy, Brook, Turf and Field, New York Yacht and Automobile.

Mr. Van Cortlandt was a liberal benefactor of Columbia and his estate, of some millions, showed great generosity to the University.

JOHN MEYER BOWERS

New York, 244

General, 244

John Meyer Bowers was an early member of the Society, being elected on April 20, 1893 as a descendant of the Hon. Samuel Johnson, Chief Magistrate of West Jersey.

Mr. Bowers was born in Middlefield, N. Y., on November 27, 1849, the son of Henry John Ray Meyer and Philotheta M. (Crain) Bowers. He was educated in the public school and high school at Cooperstown, leaving for New York at the age of sixteen to study law, a profession in which he became eminent. He entered the law office of Platt, Gerard and Buckley and continued to rise in that firm until he became the senior partner. The firm later became Bowers and Sands, his associate being B. Aymar Sands, also a member of this Society. Upon the death of Mr. Sands and the dissolution of the firm, Mr. Bowers was joined by James W. Gerard in the new partnership of Bowers and Gerard. Mr. Bowers was exceedingly well known as a corporation attorney and had many important firms as clients. Among other cases, he defended Theodore Roosevelt in the famous suit for slander brought against him by William Barnes.

He was a director of the Corn Exchange Bank and other corporations, was leader of the minority party—the Democrats—in the New York Constitutional Convention of 1894, a Presidential Elector, and a member of the Niagara Commission. Early in the World War he was appointed by President Wilson as one of three lawyers to act as the Legal Advisory Board for New York City. Mr. Bowers worked night and day for the ten weeks before his death giving advice to the 8000 attorneys engaged in the selective service work. Overtaxed in strength, he died suddenly on March 7, 1918, while recuperating at Lakewood, N. J.

Mr. Bowers belonged to the Union, Metropolitan, Manhattan, Down Town, Links, Riding, Garden City Golf, Cooperstown Country, Racquet and Tennis, Meadowbrook, and Otsego Golf Clubs, and was a member of the Sons of the Revolution.

He first married Susan Bowler Dandridge who died in 1909. His second wife was Katherine E. Starkweather who survives him with five children, Spotswood Dandridge, Henry Meyer and William Crain Bowers and two daughters.

Mr. Rawlings was a son of Le Roy and Keziah Rawlings, and was born at Dupont, Indiana, on April 25, 1852. He was educated at Danville, Indiana, and entered business life as a reporter for the Cincinnati "Morning Leader". He later became City Editor of the "Indianapolis Evening Globe". About 1880 he became private secretary to Edward King, President of the Union Trust Company of New York. He was promoted in the bank to the position of Trust Officer and later became a Vice-President, which office he held at the time of his death.

Mr. Rawlings was a member of the Sons of the American Revolution and the Indiana Society.

He died in New York City on April 4, 1918, being survived by his widow, who was Ida E. Walton, and a daughter, Mrs. James A. Laird.

WILLIAM POILLON

New York, 1512

General, 4539

William Poillon, the son of Cornelius Corsen and Julia Marianne (Corbet) Poillon, was born on August 1, 1844, in New York City. His original claim in this Society, his election coming on May 26, 1910, was Captain Jacques Poillon of the Richmond County, N. Y. Militia. He had ten other ancestors on record, all of them with Huguenot or Dutch names.

Mr. Poillon was in business in New York for most of his life, for some time being an officer of the Salamander Works. After the death about 1881 of his wife, who was Clara Wilson, he went for a time into the norseshoe business in Chicago. For a few years previous to his death Mr. Poillon lived a retired life in New York.

At all times he had many interests. He was in the Masonic Order in which he held high office. He had a national reputation as a collector of coins and medals and for many years was prominent in the affairs of the American Numismatic Society, serving as Secretary 1878-1885; Vice-President 1886-1893; Historiographer, 1897-1900; Curator, 1906-1909; and Honorary Curator from 1909 to the time of his death.

Mr. Poillon had been at one time in the Seventh Regiment and afterwards belonged to that Organization's Veteran Association. He was a member of the New York Genealogical and Biographical Society and was for some years Secretary of the old Pleiades Club.

He held an honorary degree of A. M.

William Poillon died in New York on April 12, 1918, being survived by two sons and a daughter.

RIPLEY HITCHCOCK

New York, 1560

General, 4755

(James) Ripley (Wellman) Hitchcock, was elected to the Society on November 28, 1911, as a descendant of John Hitchcock of Wethersfield, Conn., a soldier in King Philip's War, and later made record of his descent from fourteen other Colonial figures of importance including Governor William Bradford and Elder William Brewster of the "Mayflower".

Mr. Hitchcock was born on July 3, 1857, in Fitchburg, Mass., the son of Dr. Alfred and Aurilla Phebe (Wellman) Hitchcock. He graduated from Harvard in 1877 and, after post graduate work at the same university, he went, in 1879, to New York City to engage in literary and journalistic work. He at once secured a position on the New York "Tribune" where he remained for some years; in 1882 and 1883 making long journeys in the West, Mexico, and Northwest as special staff correspondent, and serving as art critic from 1882 to 1890. He then entered the field in which he gained his chief distinction by an appointment as literary adviser to D. Appleton and Company, a post in which he served until 1902. During this period he became widely known for his association with the discovery and success of new books and authors, in particular "David Harum" which he largely rewrote. He himself wrote and published many articles and books and delivered many lectures on literary, art or historical subjects. In all he wrote twenty-two books. In 1902 he had left Appleton's for Harper and Brothers where he was literary adviser and a director of the company up to the date of his death.

Mr. Hitchcock's more notable original works include "Etching in America", "The Western Art Movement", "The Louisiana Purchase and the Building of the West", "The Lewis and Clark Expedition", and "Water Color Painting in America". He was editor of many books, in particular of "The Art of the World", "The Story of the West Series", "The Trail-Makers", "Decisive Battles of America", "Social and Economic Forces in America", and the "Documentary Edition" of Woodrow Wilson's "History of the American People."

He was Vice-President of the American Social Science Association, and had been Secretary and Vice-President of the National Institute of Arts and Letters. He was a member of the American Historical Association, Author's League, New York Historical Society, and New England Society, and of the following clubs: Century, Authors, Harvard and McDowell of New York and National of London.

He died suddenly in New York City on May 4, 1918, and he was made the subject of many tributes by the newspapers and literary journals, praising him as a brilliant and authoritative critic and editor. The "Tribune" months later said: "The sense of professional loss in the field of letters at the death of Ripley Hitchcock was irreparable and so remains".

Mr. Hitchcock first married Martha Wolcott Hall, who died in 1903. His only child by this marriage was Roger Wolcott Hitchcock, who was killed at Chateau Thierry in aerial combat as a 1st Lieutenant in the American Air Service. He was awarded the D.S.C. and the Croix de Guerre with palm. By a second marriage to Helen Sanborn Sargent, Mr. Hitchcock had a second son, Ripley, Jr., who survives him, together with the widow.

Mr. Lefferts, a member of one of the oldest families of New York, spent most of his life in the city of his birth. He was for many years in the celluloid business but retired in 1910.

He was a member of the Society of Mayflower Descendants and of the Saint Nicholas Society.

Mrs. Lefferts, who was Elizabeth Morris Waring, survives her husband, with a son, Frederic Raymond Lefferts, Jr., a member of this Society, and three daughters. Another son and two daughters predeceased their father.

ELIAS PLUM MANN

New York, 361

General, 361

Elias Plum Mann was the son of Francis Norton and Mary J. (Hooker) Mann, and was born in Troy, N. Y., on March 12, 1852. It was in the same city that he spent most of his life although his death on August 4, 1918 came at his summer home in Williamstown, Mass., and the interment was at Philadelphia.

Mr. Mann was educated at the Harrington School at Westchester, N. Y., and the Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute of Troy, receiving his degree of Civil Engineer from the second institution in 1872.

He later became very active in local affairs outside of his profession. He was Treasurer of Rensselaer County from 1900 to 1906, Mayor of Troy, 1906-1912, Vice-President of the Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute, a Director of the Troy Savings Bank, Trustee of the Firemen's Home at Hudson, and 1st Lieutenant of the Troy Citizens Corps (6th N. G. S. N. Y.)

Mr. Mann was a member of the Troy Club of Troy.

He married Eliza Harding in 1899 but had no children.

Mr. Mann was elected to the Society on Feb. 16, 1894, on the same day as his brother, the late Francis Norton Mann, Jr., their ancestor being Richard Man of Scituate.

LYMAN WALTER VERE KENNON

New York, 1838

General, 5871

Lyman Walter Vere Kennon, born on September 2, 1858, in Providence, Rhode Island, the son of Charles H. Vere and Adelaide (Hall) Kennon, died in New York City on September 9, 1918. He was a recent member of the Society having been admitted on April 27, 1917, by right of descent from David Hall who was killed at the Battle of Lake George in 1755.

General Kennon had spent his life in the United States Army and had proved himself through a greatly varied and highly useful career, to be an exceptionally efficient soldier and a man of many talents and unusual personality. Few of our government servants have served in so many parts of the world and with so much success.

Entering the United States Military Academy in 1876, Lyman W. V. Kennon graduated in the class of 1881 and was commissioned a Second Lieutenant of Infantry. His early service was at the reservation of the Ute Indians and an early duty was to take a census of this tribe. He did some road building, a branch of military work in which he was to gain distinction, as early as 1882. Until 1890 he served in the west, acting at one time as Assistant Chief Engineer of the Department of the Platte, serving as Aide-de-camp to General George Crook while suppressing the Utes, and writing much on military topics. In 1891 he went to Central America as Engineer of the Intercontinental Railway and was still in that country in 1896 when detailed to establish a military academy there.

He was made a Captain in 1897 and the following year commanded Company "E", Sixth Infantry, in the campaign in Cuba. He was recommended highly for the Medal of Honor for gallantry in action. Later in 1898 he became a major and as a member of the staff of General Brooke served in Havana as an intermediary with the Spaniards for the evacuation of Cuba. In 1899 Major Kennon was Secretary of Commerce and Agriculture at Havana. In 1899 he took the Thirty-fourth Volunteer Infantry to the Philippines as its Colonel. He was military Governor of Ilocos Norte and organized the famous Ilocano Scouts, and served under General Lawton on the last "Northern Expedition".

An important duty fell to him in 1903, when he was in the Philippines as a Major, his grade in the permanent establishment. He was ordered by Governor General Taft to finish the Benguet Road, a very difficult but necessary piece of construction work on the highway from Manila to Baguio. Although several engineers had already failed, Major Kennon was signally successful and had carriages going over the road in eighteen months. In 1905 Major Kennon was on duty in Japan and Korea; in 1906 in France, Switzerland, Italy, Spain and England, and as military Attache at Rio de Janeiro; in 1907 in the Argentine, Uruguay and Brazil; in 1908 in Alaska; in 1912 in Costa Rica as an engineer at the request of the government of that republic; in 1913 in Hawaii; and in 1916 on the Mexican border—exceptionally broad experience for an American soldier. He had graduated from the War College in 1910 and in 1912 became full Colonel.

Colonel Kennon was made a Brigadier General in the National Army on August 5, 1917, and took command of the cantonment at Syracuse, New York, for a few months, before going to Camp Grant, Illinois, as commanding General of the 171st Infantry Brigade of the 86th Division. For some months General Kennon was Division Commander of the Camp during the period of the most intensive training. He seems to have over-worked and brought on an old trouble as a Board of Surgeons in 1918 rejected him for overseas service, a decision that was heart-rending to him and undoubtedly hastened his death. He returned to his permanent rank of Colonel and went in June, 1918, to take command of Camp Greene, Charlotte, North Carolina. On a trip to New York in the summer to see his old division sail for France he succumbed to illness. The interment was at Arlington with full military honors. Memorial services were held at Charlotte and his name given to a street of the city.

Besides his work as commander in the field, staff officer, engineer, military attache, and governor, Lyman W. V. Kennon was well-known as a writer on military subjects. In 1884 he brought out "Duties of Guards and Sentinels" and a few years later published an article on "Battle Tactics of Infantry" which was widely reprinted abroad. His "Manual of Guard Duty for Troops" was officially adapted for the use of the Army. He wrote an essay on the Shenandoah Valley Campaign of 1864 and worked with a board of Naval officers to prepare the "Drill Regulations for Naval Brigades". His mastery of the Spanish, Portuguese and French languages was an accomplishment unusual in our services.

General Kennon was Vice-President of the National Highway Association, a member of the Military Order of Foreign Wars, Military Order of the Spanish-American War and Sons of the American Revolution.

Mrs. Kennon, who was Annie Beecher Rice to whom Lieutenant Kennon was married in 1883, survives her husband.

FRANK MORGAN

New York, 1953

General, 5067

Frank Morgan had been a member of the Society since October 30, 1913, his qualifying ancestor being Ensign Thomas Cornell of Long Island who served against the Indians.

Mr. Morgan was born on May 19, 1852, in Brooklyn, N. Y., the son of Francis Stevenson and Anna Maria (Wing-Cornell) Stevenson, and was educated at private schools.

At the time of his death, which occurred in New York on September 18, 1918, he was President of the Hudson Metals Company.

Mr. Morgan was a veteran of the 23rd Infantry of Brooklyn, N. G. N. Y., and a member of the St. George's Golf and Country Club and of the Masonic order.

He is survived by his wife, who was Evelyn Augusta Trussell, and two daughters.

FANCHER NICOLL

New York, 1286

General, 3750

Captain Fancher Nicoll was killed while leading his Company in an assault on the Hindenburg Line. He was the commanding officer of Company "L" of the 107th Infantry, U. S. Army, having commanded that organization for some years before the war, when it was a unit of the 7th Infantry, N.G.N.Y. His death came on September 29, 1918, at Guillemont Farm, Aisne, France, and he was killed almost instantly in a fierce engagement in which his Company was reduced to twenty-nine men. One of the survivors later wrote: "Captain Nicoll died a very brave man. We all mourn him. Out leading his men and cheering them on, he met a very humane death, shot through the forehead and dying almost instantly. Even when he was dying he reached out his hand to comfort his Company clerk, who had been wounded beside him."

He had already participated in several engagements on the Western Front and was highly commended by the Commanding General of the 6th British Division for his "gallantry and skill" in repulsing a raid by the enemy.

Fancher Nicoll commenced his military career on March 21, 1900, when he enlisted in Company "K" of the Seventh Regiment. He had become a Sergeant in "K" in 1909, when he was transferred to "L" on the creation of that Company. On December 30, 1909, he was commissioned Second Lieutenant, and on July 24, 1913, was made Captain. From July to November, 1916, he commanded his Company on the Mexican border. On July 15, 1917, his regiment was mobilized and he was inducted into the United States Service on August 5, 1917. He sailed for France with the 107th on May 9, 1918.

Captain Nicoll was an attorney by profession, admitted to the bar in 1901, and being a member of the firm of Harris & Towne when he went into the Army. Born on October 29, 1878, at Shrub Oak, Westchester County, N. Y., he was the son of James Craig Nicoll, N.A., and his wife, Cora A. (Noble) Nicoll. In 1899 he graduated from Williams College and he studied law at Columbia.

He was a member of Zeta Psi Fraternity, the Century Association, the Sleepy Hollow Club, and various auxiliary organizations of the 7th Regiment. He was a member and for many years the Recording Secretary of the New York Historical Society. He was also a Past Master of Independent Royal Arch Lodge No. 2, F. & A. M.

He is survived by his widow, who was Marie Christine Spies, and by a young son and daughter.

Captain Nicoll was elected to the Society of Colonial Wars on October 27, 1904, as a descendant of Captain William Lawrence, of Flushing. He had on record three supplemental claims.

ANDREW BRYSON

New York, 254

General, 254

Andrew Bryson had been a member of the Society since May, 1893, as a descendant of Captain Samuel Walker of Rehoboth who served against King Philip.

Mr. Bryson was the son of Rear Admiral Andrew Bryson, U.S.N., and his wife, Charlotte Arnold, and was born in New York City on September 2, 1851. After completing school work he entered in 1869 the employ of the Connecticut Western Railroad. He continued with this and other railroads in engineering work until 1873, when he spent a year travelling in Europe. On his return he re-entered railroad work in Canada and became in 1874 Division Engineer on the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western. He was in engineering work of this character until 1900 when he went to Reading, Pa., as President and Treasurer of the Brylzon Steel Casting Company. He moved the plant to New Castle, Del., in 1905, and this city was his home to the time of his death.

He retired from business in 1916 and devoted his time to community interests, particularly to war work. He was Chairman of the local men's committee for the Second and Third Liberty Loans and was engaged in plans for the Fourth Loan when his sudden death came. He was a member of the Delaware District Board for the consideration of claims and appeals in the matter of exemptions, and was on the Board appointed by the Federal Government to collect information concerning the war facilities of manufacturing interests in his district. Mr. Bryson was also President of the New Castle branch of the Navy Legion and a member of the New Castle Board of Trade.

He was a member of the American Society of Civil Engineers and the Loyal Legion. He was a Trustee of the Presbyterian Church at New Castle, and had been a Captain in the Scranton City Guard.

His death came on October 1, 1918, in New Castle. He was survived by one sister.

DERMOT WARBURTON KEEGAN

New York, 849

General, 2194

Mr. Keegan whose death came on October 8, 1918, in Boston, Massachusetts, had been a member of the Society since October 29, 1897, as a descendant of Cornet Joseph Parsons of Springfield and also of Captain Joseph Parsons and Captain John Waite. He was the son of Patrick and Hannah (Parsons) Keegan and was born to them on October 9, 1841, in Boston.

Dermot Warburton Keegan was educated at the Boston Latin School and the Tomaston, Maine, Academy; later graduating from Harvard as an A. B. in 1862 and spending two years, 1862 and 1863, at the University of Berlin. He later received an A. M. from Harvard.

He entered upon the study of law in the Albany office of the late Governor Morgan of New York, but his health gave out and he engaged in the wholesale dry goods business in New York City. He later went to the Pacific Mills Corporation at Lawrence, Massachusetts, and while there invented a new method of making crepon cotton goods. Enjoying a handsome royalty from this source, he retired from business and went to live at the University Club in New York, devoting his time to literary pursuits.

In addition to being a member of the University Club for over forty years, he belonged to the Sons of the American Revolution and was a 32nd degree Mason.

CHARLES GEORGE MOLLER

New York, 1003

General, 2755

Charles George Moller, was elected to the Society on October 27, 1899, as a descendant of Lieut. Lion Gardiner of Gardiner's Island. He also had ten supplemental claims on file, chiefly from early New Yorkers.

Mr. Moller, the son of Charles George and Elizabeth Eglantine (Furman) Moller, was born in New York City on December 18, 1867. His death came at his home in the same city on October 20, 1918.

He was well-known as a collector of early New York books, of old paintings and antiques. He was a member of the Rockaway Hunt Club and the Society of Mayflower Descendants.

Mrs. Moller, who was Helene Allen, and a son, Charles George Moller, Jr., and one daughter survive.

CHARLES ISHAM

New York, 104

General, 104

An early member of the Society, Charles Isham was elected on December 23, 1892, as a descendant of Capt. John Isham, who served in the French War of 1755 and in the Havana Expedition of 1762. He had also on record the services of nine other ancestors. Mr. Isham had for a number of years been on the Society's Committee on Historical Documents and the Nominating Committee.

Charles Isham was born on July 25, 1853, in New York City, the son of William Bradley and Julia (Burhans) Isham. He received a very complete education, graduating from Phillips Academy at Andover to enter Harvard, from which he took his bachelor's degree in 1876. At college he was exceedingly popular and was a member of the Porcellian Club, in which he always retained a deep interest.

He continued his studies by graduate work in history at Harvard and at the College de France and the University of Berlin. Still later, he studied law in New York City and was admitted to the Bar.

He was a man of varied interests, of the greatest culture and personal charm, and an "old New Yorker" of an unusual type.

Mr. Isham was Librarian of the New York Historical Society from 1888 to 1892, and it was during this period that he edited the important "Papers of Silas Deane," a work of five volumes. In 1887 he had published a monograph on the Anglo-American fishing grounds, entitled "The Fisheries Question." He was married in 1891 to Mary Lincoln, daughter of Robert T. Lincoln, American Minister to Great Britain, and Mr. Isham was later officially attached to the Legation at London for some time.

He gave much of his time to the hereditary societies and was active in many of them. Of the Saint Nicholas Society he was Secretary from 1896 to 1910, then a Vice-President, and, in 1914, the President. In the Veteran Corps of Artillery, constituting the Military Society of the War of 1812, he was Paymaster, with the rank of First Lieutenant. He was a member of the Connecticut Society of the Cincinnati and was Treasurer-General of the General Society. Also he belonged to the Union, Century and Down Town Clubs and to the Military Order of Foreign Wars, the Naval Order and the Sons of the Revolution.

His widow, who was Zelia Krumbhaar Preston, survives him, as does also a daughter.

AUGUSTUS CORTLANDT VAN RENSSELAER

New York, 610

General, 1250

Augustus Cortlandt Van Rensselaer, who died on September 3, 1919, at his home in Pittsfield, Mass., had been a member of the Society since December 27, 1895. He was a descendant of many of the oldest New York families and had on record with the Society the names of four ancestors: Col. Jeremias Van Rensselaer, Col. Oloff Stevense Van Cortlandt, Hon. Nicholas Bayard and Edward Foster, an Assistant in Plymouth Colony.

Mr. Van Rensselaer was born on March 20, 1848, in New York City, the son of Jeremiah and Julia Webster (Jandon) Van Rensselaer. He was educated at a private school in the city of his birth and at New York University. He early entered business in New York, going into the financial district for a few years until appointed private secretary to John Taylor Johnston, President of the New Jersey Central Railroad. Mr. Van Rensselaer was later in business in Boston, but he retired in middle life to his estate near Pittsfield, Mass.

He was a member of the Union Boat Club of Boston and the New York Historical Society.

His widow, who was Mabel Louise Watts, survives.

CHARLES AUGUSTUS LUMMIS

New York, 1540.

General, 4669.

Charles Augustus Lummis, long a banker and broker in New York and for thirty years a member of the Stock Exchange, died on October 4, 1919, in New York City. Born in New York on April 28, 1849, he was the son of William Maxwell and Ann (O'Brien) Lummis, and a descendant of Edward Lummis of Ipswich who fought against the Pequots in 1637, being elected to the Society through this claim on March 30, 1911.

Mr. Lummis was a fellow in perpetuity of the National Academy of Design, and a member of the Catholic and New York Athletic Clubs and the Sons of the Revolution.

He is survived by Mrs. Lummis, who was Marion Dubain, and two sons, Charles A., Jr., and Dayton Maxwell Lummis.

ANDREW LANGDON.

New York, 775.

General, 1676.

Andrew Langdon, whose death came in Buffalo, N. Y., on November 11, 1919, was elected to the Society on October 30, 1896, as a descendant of Major Samuel Appleton, Commander-in-chief of the Massachusetts forces in the war against King Philip.

Mr. Langdon was the son of John Le Droit and Jerusha (Stillman) Langdon and was born on April 20, 1835, in New Marlboro, Massachusetts. He had a varied business career, as merchant, manufacturer, banker, and coal operator, living at various times at Spuyten Duyvil and Belmont, N. Y., Oil City and Harrisburg, Pa. He resided in Buffalo from 1881 to the time of his death. There he was an independent coal operator and a director of banks, coal companies, railroads, and public utility companies. He was Vice President of the Buffalo General Electric Company and Chairman of the Executive Committee of the Telephone and Telegraph Company.

For several years he served as Park Commissioner of Buffalo and as a member of the Buffalo Grade-Crossings Commission. He had been President of the Buffalo Historical Society from 1894 on for sixteen years and honorary President for life, and was a liberal benefactor of that institution.

He was an officer of the Academy of Fine Arts and the Society of Natural Sciences and a member of the Sons of the American Revolution and the Buffalo, Ellicott, and Buffalo Yacht Clubs.

Mr. Langdon had been twice married, surviving both his wives. His children are John Le Droit, William Chauncey, Ellen E. and Elizabeth Langdon.

WILLIAM DE WOLF DIMOCK.

New York, 745.

General, 1596.

William De Wolf Dimock, the son of William Davis and Sylvia De Wolf (Bullock) Dimock, was born on February 29, 1864, in New York City, and was elected to the Society on June 12, 1896, as a descendant of Ensign Thomas Dimock of Barnstable who fought against the Pequots and Narragansetts.

Mr. Dimock matriculated at Columbia in the School of Mines with the class of 1888, of which he was at one time the President. He left college to engage in mining in Colorado, returning after two years to enter the transportation business in New York City, becoming General Passenger Agent of the Providence and Stonington Steamship Company. Later he was Secretary of the Harlan and Hollingsworth Company of Wilmington, Delaware, and agent of the New York Shipbuilding Company in New York City. The latter years of his life were spent in Gloucester County, Virginia, where he was President of the Tidewater Telephone Company. He died in New York City on November 12, 1919.

Mr. Dimock was for a time in Company "I" of the Seventh Regiment but he was better known for his interest in naval rather than military affairs. He had much to do with organizing the Naval Militia of New York and became commanding officer of the Second Division of the 1st Naval Battalion, with the rank of Lieutenant Commander. He served throughout the Spanish-American War as an Ensign on the U. S. S. "Yankee" taking part in the bombardment of Santiago and other important actions and receiving special commendation from the Secretary of the Navy.

During the World War Mr. Dimock was County Treasurer for the Red Cross and County Food Administrator, State of Virginia, 1916 to 1918. He was also engaged in naval intelligence work under appointment from the Navy Yard at Norfolk.

He was at one time a Director of the Navy League and was a member of Psi Upsilon fraternity, the New York Yacht, Transportation and Columbia University Clubs, the Sons of the Revolution, Military Order of Foreign Wars, Naval Order, Naval and Military Order of the Spanish-American War, and belonged to the Society of Naval Architects and Marine Engineers.

He is survived by Mrs. Dimock, who was Laura Chamberlin, and one daughter.

Mr. Haight was a Trustee of the New York Public Library, and a member of the Merchants, Hamilton and City Clubs.

He married Harriet Everest and is survived by a daughter and four sons, Frederick Everest, Charles Sherman, Louis Pease and Austin Dunham Haight; the first two named being members of the Society of Colonial Wars.

JOHN VAN RENSSELAER HOFF

New York, 121

General, 121

Colonel John Van Rensselaer Hoff, Medical Corps, U. S. Army, retired, a much beloved officer of the "old Army" and long a valued member of the Society of Colonial Wars, died on January 14, 1920, at his residence in Washington, D. C.

John Van Rensselaer Hoff joined the Society on January 20, 1893, as a descendent of Lieutenant Kiliaen Van Rensselaer. He had many other Colonial ancestors. The son of Alexander Henry and Ann Eliza (Van Rensselaer) Hoff, he was born on April 11, 1848, in Mount Morris, N. Y. and early entered upon the study of medicine. He graduated from the Albany Medical College with the degree of M.D. in 1871. In 1874 he secured the degrees of A.M. from Union College and M.D. from Columbia University and on November 10th of that year he was commissioned as an Assistant Surgeon in the Army.

His army career was greatly varied. He served on the Western frontier, in Indian Territory, California, Chicago, Kansas, New York City, Leavenworth, and at many other stations. While in the West he saw considerable service with troops in the field and in 1890, during a campaign against the Sioux, he was commended "for conspicuous bravery and coolness under fire". In 1890 he was promoted Major and in 1898 made Lieutenant Colonel of Volunteers and assigned as Chief Surgeon of the 3rd Army Corps. He sailed for Porto Rico and was Chief Surgeon at San Juan in 1899. In 1900 he went to China as Chief Surgeon under General Adna R. Chaffee during the Boxer rebellion. In 1902 he was promoted Lieutenant Colonel in the permanent establishment, and in this grade accompanied the Russian Army as an observer during the Russo-Japanese War. He was retired with the rank of Colonel on April 11, 1912, being then Chief Surgeon of the Eastern Department. During the World War he was returned to active duty, resuming service on July 12, 1916, and serving until August 2, 1918.

In 1906 he received the degree of LL.D from Bucknell University and in 1912 the same degree from Union University.

He is survived by his widow, Lavinia D. Hoff.

His death came on March 2, 1920, in New York City.

Mr. Bangs was a graduate of Columbia College in 1878, being a member of Psi Upsilon and Phi Beta Kappa and permanent president of his class. In 1880 he graduated from the Columbia Law School and was admitted to the New York Bar. He entered his father's firm, Bangs and Stetson, later becoming a member of the firm, in which Grover Cleveland was an associate. From 1894 to 1900 he was President of the State Trust Company, from 1901 to 1906 a partner in the Stock Exchange firm of Kingsley, Mabon and Company, resuming in 1906 the practice of law in the firm known at the time of his death as Guthrie, Bangs and Van Sinderen. Mr. Bangs was a man of many interests. From 1900 to the time of his death he was a Trustee of Columbia University and for many years was Chairman of the Board of Stewards of the Inter-Collegiate Rowing Association. He was a member of the Vestry of Trinity Church in New York from 1898, giving largely of his time to the parish. He was a director of many financial corporations, well known as a collector of books on New York, was President of "The Edward Bangs Descendants," a veteran of the 7th Regiment, and widely known in the legal profession.

He belonged to the Bar Associations of the City and State, the American Bar Association and the Chamber of Commerce, and among his clubs were the Century, Down Town, University, Union League, Metropolitan, and Church. He belonged also to the Saint Nicholas Society.

Mrs. Bangs, who was Helen Clewell Whitney, survives with two daughters and two sons, Henry McComb and Francis Nathan Bangs.

FREDERICK HAMILTON CLARK

New York, 1527

General, 4597

Mr. Frederick Hamilton Clark died on April 9, 1920, at his home in Yonkers, N. Y., having been a member of the Society since December 29, 1910. He had seventeen claims on file, including Governor Thomas Prence, Rev. Abraham Pierson, Major John Clark, and Elder William Brewster.

Mr. Clark was the son of the late Dr. Frederick Hamilton and Elizabeth Stebbins (Waterbury) Clark, and was born on May 2, 1864, in New York City. He was in business in New York for all his life, for about twenty years with J. W. Doane and Company, coffee merchants, and then with the Guantanamo Sugar Company of which he was Secretary and Treasurer.

He gave many years of service to the Seventh Regiment, retiring in 1893 as Lieutenant in Company "D". He was a Vestryman and Warden for seventeen years of St. Andrew's Memorial P. E. Church in Yonkers, a Director of the Yonkers Y. M. C. A., and a member of the Society of Mayflower Descendants, New England Society, Order of Founders and Patriots, Sons of the American Revolution, Park Hill and Hudson River Country Clubs, and Seventh Regiment Veteran Association.

Mrs. Clark, who was Fannie Duncan Riddle, survives her husband together with two daughters.

LEVI PARSONS MORTON

New York, 683

Gneral, 1437

Levi Parsons Morton had been a member of the Society since March 27, 1896, his election coming as a descendant of Stephen Hopkins of the "Mayflower". He died at his home at Rhinecliff, N. Y., on May 16, 1920, his ninety-sixth birthday.

His career is too well known for extended notice here.

Born at Shoreham, Vermont, on May 16, 1824, he was the son of the Rev. Daniel Oliver and Lucretia (Parsons) Morton, and was raised in poverty and meagerly educated. He entered business at sixteen as a clerk in a store at Enfield, Mass., and before he was fifty was internationally known as a financier; the head of the banking houses Morton, Bliss and Company of New York and Morton, Rose and Company of London. His firm were the fiscal agents for the United States in England and he founded the syndicate which funded the United States National debt. His fortune was one of the largest in the country.

He entered public office comparatively late in life. At the Paris Exposition of 1878 he was Honorary Commissioner for the United States. As a Republican he was elected to the 46th Congress (1879-1881) from the 6th New York District, was United States Minister to France, 1881-1885, Vice President of the United States, 1889-1893, and Governor of New York, 1895-1896. He was twice a candidate for United States Senator. The degree of LL. D was given him by Dartmouth in 1881 and by Middlebury in 1882.

Mr. Morton was a member of the Society of Mayflower Descendants, Sons of the Revolution and New England Society, and the Metropolitan, Union League, Lawyers', Republican, and Down Town Clubs.

His first wife was Lucy Kimball who died in 1871. Two years after that he married Anna Livingston Street, who also predeceased him. He is survived by several children, all daughters.

WILLIAM MILNE GRINNELL

New York, 270

General, 270

William Milne Grinnell, long a member of this Society, had on record the services of twenty-one Colonial ancestors, including six Governors, John Webster, Thomas Dudley, George Wylls, William Bradford, John Haynes and William Pitkin; three Colonels, John Gorham, John Otis and James Frye; and one Major, Abraham Staats. Mr. Grinnell was elected to the Society of Colonial Wars on June 12, 1893. He was also a founder and an early Secretary of the Society of Mayflower Descendants.

William Milne Grinnell was born in New York City, son of George Blake and Helen Alvord (Laving) Grinnell on February 2, 1858, and died here on June 26, 1920.

He entered Yale University after a private school education, and received his bachelor's degree in 1881. Taking up the study of architecture at Columbia he entered upon and practiced this profession in New York.

After a few years, however, he gave up active business and devoted himself to travel and to collecting. Few parts of the world were unknown to him and his collections of art objects, especially the Persian antiques left to the Metropolitan Museum, were very fine.

Mr. Grinnell was a member of the Psi Upsilon fraternity and of the University, Yale, and Doone and Crockett Clubs. He also belonged to the Huguenot Society.

He never married and his nearest surviving relatives are a brother, George Bird Grinnell, and two sisters.

WILLIAM FOULKE

New York, 660

General, 1370

William Foulke, who was elected to the Society on February 28, 1896, was a descendant of many of the old families of New York. He had on record with the Society the services of the following of his ancestors: Lieut. Wilhelmus Beekman, Col. Gerardus Beekman, Capt. Abraham Keteltas, Capt. Johannes de Peyster, Capt. Isaac Bedlow and Lieut. Hendrick Rutgers.

Mr. Foulke was born on June 28, 1847, in New York City, the son of William and Mary Elizabeth (Fish) Foulke, and most of his life was devoted to the churches and charitable organizations of his native city.

He had been Treasurer of the American Bible Society for thirty-four years, holding the office up to the time of his death. Of the Home for Destitute Blind he had been President since 1913, and of the New York Dispensary he was a Trustee from 1906 to 1912, and President since 1912. For over twenty years he had been Treasurer of the Washington Square Home for Friendless Girls, being in office to the end. For a number of years he had been a vestryman of St. George's Church, then a warden, and also Treasurer, but he gave up these offices when he moved to New Rochelle. He then attended Christ Church at Pelham, and had been a vestryman for several years.

Mr. Foulke was a member of the Union, Seawanhaka-Corinthian Yacht and Church Clubs, and of the St. Nicholas Society.

He had never married and his only surviving relative is a brother, Bayard Fish Foulke, a member of the Society of Colonial Wars. His death came on July 1, 1920, at his residence in New Rochelle.

THOMAS REDFIELD PROCTOR

New York, 583

General, 1171

Thomas Redfield Proctor died in Utica, N. Y., on July 4, 1920, and his death was made the occasion of extraordinary tributes to the memory of a private citizen. The flags of his city were placed at halfmast, steps were taken to have all Utica observe annually a holiday in recollection of him, and plans undertaken to erect a statue of him and otherwise to keep his name and his deeds for all time before his townspeople. The New York Times said of him: "He was of a fame chiefly restricted to his home city of Utica, but there he had a really unusual amount of it, and his passing has moved the citizens of the place to expressions of respect, affection and gratitude that are remarkable even more for their obvious sincerity than for their number."

Mr. Proctor did much to build up Utica and was exceedingly generous in his support of all efforts to improve the city, but he was chiefly esteemed for his interest in and sympathy for all around him. He gave not only of his means, but of his time and of himself.

He was responsible for the park system of Utica and personally gave to the city and improved for park purposes about six hundred acres in eight parks. He gave the land for the public library, was the chief benefactor of the House of the Good Shepherd for children, built the Republican Clubhouse, with his wife's family built the Oneida Historical Society, and carried out many other projects for the improvement and beautifying of the city. He also gave a statute of Alexander Hamilton to Hamilton College and presented the Public Library to Richfield Springs, N. Y. Mr. Proctor had been President of the House of the Good Shepherd, President of the Oneida Historical Society, President of the Republican Club, President of the Fort Schuyler Club, a Trustee of Hamilton College, a member of the Executive Committee of the State Agricultural Society, and active in many other charitable and social organizations. He was a delegate to the Republican National Conventions of 1908, 1916 and 1920, a Commissioner for New York at the Paris Exposition of 1900 and a member of the Board of Visitors of the United States Naval Academy. In the affairs of the Protestant Episcopal Church he was active as Senior Warden of Grace Church of Utica and as a delegate to diocesan conventions. He at all times showed much interest in the affairs of the Masonic Order, the G. A. R. and the patriotic societies.

Thomas Redfield Proctor was born on May 25, 1844, at Proctorsville, Vermont, the son of Moody Stickney and Betsy Nancy (Redfield) Proctor. He was educated at Boston and was about to graduate from the high school when the Civil War came. In 1862 he enlisted as a paymaster's clerk in the United States Navy, being stationed on the "Brandywine" of the North Atlantic Squadron. After two years he was promoted to be secretary to Admiral Pierson and continued in the navy for five years, seeing much active service. He was offered a commission in the Regular Navy at the close of the war, but declined it and returned to Vermont to take charge of a manufacturing property. In a year or two he moved to Nyack, N. Y., as manager of a hotel, and then moved, in 1869, to Utica as proprietor of another hotel. This property was much enlarged under him and he later acquired and made highly successful a house at Richfield Springs. He left the hotel business about 1890 and devoted his attention to the local banks and other corporations in which he was a director. He was Vice-President of the Savage Arms Company and of the Utica Press Company and an officer of many local enterprises.

He was a member of many organizations, including the Grand Army of the Republic, Loyal Legion, Sons of the American Revolution, Society of Mayflower Descendants, New England Society, Founders and Patriots, and of the Metropolitan Club, Army and Navy Club, and Players Club of New York. He held an A.M. degree from Hamilton College.

He is survived by his widow, who was Maria Watson Williams, and by a brother, Frederick Towne Proctor.

Mr. Proctor was elected to the Society of Colonial Wars on November 26, 1895, as a descendant of Capt. Peleg Redfield.

FRANK TRUMBULL

New York, 1405

General, 1506

Nathan Franklin Trumbull, who was widely known as Frank Trumbull, the form of his name he usually used, was first elected to the Colonial Wars on April 25, 1896, as a charter member of the Society in Colorado, being transferred to the Society in New York on November 20, 1907. His claim in the Society was by right of descent from Lieut. Phineas Upham, who was fatally wounded at the Great Swamp Fight. He was also a descendant of the Hon. Isham Randolph and of Lieut. Col. William Randolph, of Virginia.

Frank Trumbull was born on November 7, 1858, in Arcadia, Missouri, and was the son of Walter Bowdoin and Virginia (Thomas) Trumbull. He had to start work at the age of twelve, but his father was a school teacher and was able to give his son some groundwork of an education. It had been found, anyway, that the boy was mentally too alert for much of the work done at the local school, even as a child his capacity for mathematics in particular being a matter of some local reputation.

At the age of fourteen he was Deputy Postmaster at Pleasant Hill, Mo., and two years later entered the field of transportation as a clerk for the Missouri, Kansas and Texas. Fourteen years later, when he had become Auditor of the Texas and Pacific, he left the railroad business for five years to enter a wholesale coal firm. In 1893 he was appointed Receiver and General Manager of the Union Pacific, Denver and Gulf. Out of this road he organized the Colorado and Southern and was elected President, with Grenville M. Dodge as Chairman of the Board. He disposed of the Colorado and Southern to James J. Hill in 1908 and was about to retire when persuaded to become Chairman of the Board of the Chesapeake and Ohio. He merged with this the Hocking Valley Railroad and other properties. At the time of his death he still held this Chairmanship, and was a Director of the National City Bank and of other important corporations.

Mr. Trumbull's important services in connection with the Association of Railway Executives are summed up in this manner in the resolutions adopted by the Association after his death: "His intellectual interests were, however, far wider than any individual corporation. He became a philosopher of transportation and a broad-minded student of its relationship to Government and to the interests of all the people. He was one of the small number who originated, and he became the first Chairman of, what has now become the Association of Railway Executives. He devoted himself without reservation or limit to the purpose of bringing about an understanding by the public of the problems of transportation in their relationship to the welfare and prosperity of society, and an appreciation of their essentially national character and importance....He was Chairman of the Committee of Executives which called on the President in September, 1914....He was instrumental in bringing about the comprehensive study of the railroad problem which was made by the Joint Committee of Congress."

He died at Santa Barbara, Calif., on July 12, 1920, and the funeral services were at Tarrytown, N. Y. His first wife was Cora Hale, who died in 1889. He is survived by his widow, who was Mary A. Sisson.

CHARLES WHITE TRIPPE

New York, 1909

General, 5337

Charles White Trippe died at his summer home at Easthampton, Long Island, on July 23, 1920. He had been a member of the Society since November 30, 1914, having been elected as a descendant of Lieut. Col. Henry Trippe, of the Colonial Militia of Maryland, who was in service against the Indians.

The son of Frederick Wright and Mary Louise (White) Trippe, he was born on June 8, 1872, in New York City, and educated at a private school and at Columbia University. He was at college from 1892 to 1894, leaving at the end of Junior year. Mr. Trippe then entered business in New York and for the last ten years of his life was the Stock Exchange member of the firm of Trippe & Company.

During the World War he served with the Red Cross as a Director of Personnel and helped to organize the Police Reserves for the Wall Street district. He also took in charge the outfitting of the U.S.S. Destroyer "Trippe," named after one of his ancestors.

He was a member of the Calumet, Riding, Apawamis, New York Athletic and Columbia University Clubs, and of the Sons of Veterans.

His widow, who was Lucy Adeline Terry, survives, as does a son, Juan Terry Trippe, a member of this Society.

WILLIAM NEWTON CLARK

New York, 109

General, 109

A descendant of Lieutenant Nicholas Stilwell and Captain William Lawrence, early soldiers in the Province of New York, William Newton Clark was elected to the Society on January 6, 1893.

He was born on August 14, 1832, at Black Point, Monmouth Co., N. J., and died in his 88th year on August 5, 1920, in New York City.

Mr. Clark was educated at private schools in Geneva, N. Y., and spent one year at Hobart College. In January, 1849, he entered the wholesale drug firm now known as Schieffelin and Company, and remained there until 1906, having become a member of the firm in 1865.

He was a member of the Saint Nicholas Society and the Colonial Order of the Acorn and active in the affairs of the Dutch Reformed Church.

Mrs. Clark, who predeceased her husband, was H. Matilda Anderson. A son, Henry Schieffelin Clark, a member of the Society of Colonial Wars, died on January 3, 1918. The surviving children are Mrs. William Gordon Ver Planck and Miss Maud Schuyler Clark.

PUBLICATIONS OF THE SOCIETY OF COLONIAL WARS IN THE STATE OF NEW YORK

The first publication of the Society of Colonial Wars in the State of New York seems to have been the Register published under date of January, 1893. This contained the Constitution and By-Laws, the addresses delivered at the Dinner on December 19th, 1892, by Frederic J. de Peyster, Esq., Hon. Charles H. Murray, and Nathan G. Pond, Esq., and a list of members with a record of the services of their ancestors. Most of the later publications of both the New York and General Societies took pattern after this 1893 book, not only in size but in the adoption of the Society's colors for the cover.

In the year 1895 the Society issued a paper-covered pamphlet of thirty pages, giving only the Constitution and By-Laws.

This was followed in 1896 by a paper-covered book entitled "Extracts from the Journal of the Rev. John Graham, Chaplain of the First Connecticut Regiment, Colonel Lyman, Havana Expedition, 1762"; later known as Historical Publication Number 1.

Under date of April, 1897, there was published a pocket-size paper-bound Year Book, with lists of officers, committees and members, and giving the Constitution and By-Laws. It also gave the General Officers, the Secretaries and Treasurers of the State Societies, the membership totals of the various State organizations, departures from the general rules of eligibility which had been made by the different State Societies, and a list of the events commemorated by the meeting of the General Court of the State Societies.

In April, 1897, there also appeared "An Account of the Battle of Lake George, Compiled by the Committee on Historical Documents and the Lake George Memorial Committee of the Society of Colonial Wars in the State of New York." This was a large-paper edition, and contained an illustration of the proposed Lake George Memorial and two maps, showing the first and second engagements. This pamphlet was issued primarily as an appeal to the members for support of the project to erect the monument.

In August, 1898, the New York Society brought out a "Supplement to the Register of 1897-1898." This was a list of the members elected to the Society in New York since the Register had been issued by the General Society. There were only eleven pages of names and the pages were identical in size and appearance with those of the Register, so the Supplement could be fastened inside the covers of the larger book. Except when the services of an ancestor did not appear in the Register they were not given and reference was made to the main index.

As of March 1st, 1899, there came out a pocket-size Year Book for 1898-1899, containing, except for the changes in the lists of officers and members, practically the same material as the book of similar form dated April, 1897.

Appearing as Historical Paper Number 2, 1899, was "The Year 1619 in the Colony of Virginia," an address delivered by Howard R. Bayne, Esq., before the Society on December 20th, 1897.

Without date, but called Publication Number 3, came "A Copy of Original Massachusetts Muster Rolls, the Property of the Society of Colonial Wars in the State of New York," eight pages in a small-paper edition.

Historical Paper Number 4, 1899, was an address on "The Second Capture of Louisbourg," by Frederic H. Betts, Esq., read before the Society on March 20th, 1899. This had one illustration, a portrait of Admiral Boscawen.

It was also in 1899 that there was published a "Register of Members of the Society of Colonial Wars who served in the Army or Navy of the United States during the Spanish-American War, and Record of the Patriotic Work done by the Society." This was in fact issued by the General Society, but has been put in the list of New York publications as Number 5. This book contained a list, by States, of the veteran members with notes of their rank and service, and photographs of the three officers who were killed in action. One page of addenda was later printed separately for these War Records.

Publication Number 6, 1902, consisted of "Addresses Delivered at the Tenth Annual Banquet of the Society of Colonial Wars in the State of New York." Lists of the officers and of the members and guests present at the dinner were included, together with a copy of the menu and a cut showing the loving cup presented to Governor General de Peyster.

Under date of June 15, 1903, was published the "Year Book for 1903," similar in form to those for 1896-1897 and 1898-1899.

Also in 1903, the Society issued again the article on the "Battle of Lake George," first published in 1897. This time the name of the author was given as Morris Patterson Ferris, Esq. A new picture of the completed monument was used as a frontispice, illustrating the changes made in the figures from the earlier sketch. This is known now as Publication Number 8.

In 1904 came Historical Paper Number 7, "A Rebellion in the Colony of Virginia," by Howard R. Bayne, Esq., read before the Society on November 21, 1904.

In June, 1904, there were printed together as one paper-covered book "Daniel Claus' Narrative of His Relations with Sir William Johnson and Experiences in the Lake George Fight," the "Report of the Lake George Memorial Executive Committee," and "Native Troops in Our Colonial Possessions," a paper read before the Society on March 21st, 1904, by Major Louis Livingston Seaman, M.D. Later, these three articles were numbered as Publications 9, 10 and 11.

A Year Book was distributed in 1905, with chronicle, lists of officers and members, necrology, Constitution, By-Laws, information for candidates, and the names of the officers of the General Society. This is now called Publication Number 12.

Publication Number 13 was "Addresses Delivered Before the Society of Colonial Wars in the State of New York and Year Book for 1906-1907," issued as of September, 1907. The papers included were six in number, as follows: "The Pequot War" by Robert D. Benedict, Esq.; "Ticonderoga and Crown Point" by William G. Davies, Esq.; "Colonial Ideals of New England" by Dermot W. Keegan, Esq.; "The Great Swamp Fight" by Hamilton B. Tompkins, Esq.; "Why We Are What We Are" by Prof. James H. Canfield; and "The Settlement of Jamestown, 1607," by Howard-R. Bayne, Esq. The Year Book section contained lists of State and General Society officers, committees, former officers, deceased members, the Constitution and By-Laws, a chronicle, and information for applicants. The book was bound in cloth, with the use of red and white customary from the first.

"Addresses Delivered before the Society of Colonial Wars in the State of New York and Year Book for 1908-1909" appeared in July, 1909, as Publication Number 14. There were two addresses: "The Colonial Prologue to the Drama of the Revolution" by Francis Howard Williams, Esq., and "Henry Hudson, A Sketch of His Career" by Dr. Marcus Benjamin; and the other material observed the same divisions as in the 1906-1907 volume. A small edition of the year book proper, without the lectures, was issued in paper covers.

Bearing no serial number, but now known as 15, was the "Orderly Book and Journal of Major John Hawks on the Ticonderoga-Crown Point Campaign, under General Jeffrey Amherst, 1759-1760, with a Preface by Rev. George B. Spalding, D.D., and an Introduction by Hon. Hugh Hastings. This was distributed to the members in 1911. The book was uniform in size and binding with the 1906-1907 and 1908-1909 annuals.

Publication Number 16 was "Addresses Delivered Before the Society of Colonial Wars in the State of New York and Year Book for 1911-1912," issued under date of November, 1912. Two sermons and three addresses were printed, together with the usual Year Book data. As a frontispiece was an illustration of the tablet placed by the Society at Crown Point, New York. The papers in this book were at the same time issued separately in a paper-covered form for the use of the authors, who were presented with practically the entire editions. The addresses were numbered then as follows: Publication Number 17, "The Ends of the Earth" by Rev. Howard Duffield, D.D.; Number 18, "The Nation Builders" by Rev. Howard Duffield, D.D.; Number 19, "The Great Virginia Rebellion of 1676" by Prof. Robert M. McElroy; Number 20, "Thomas Dudley, 1576-1653, Governor of Massachusetts Bay Colony" by George Ellsworth Koues, Esq.; and Number 21, "The Passing of New Amsterdam" by Prof. William Robert Shepherd.

The next publication was Number 22, the Year Book for 1913-1914. A brief history of the Society and a bibliography of both the New York and General Societies appeared for the first time. There was a complete revision of the chronicle and the practice was first adopted of printing the names of the three classes of members in one list.

The Year Book for 1914-1915 bore the serial number 23. It contained the material found in the Year Book immediately preceding it, with some amplifications, and also three addresses and one sermon. It was illustrated with portraits of Mr. Howland Pell and the late Clarence Storm, with the book-plate of the Society, and two boundary maps. The addresses and sermon were later issued separately, chiefly for presentation to the authors, and carry the following numbers: Number 24, "The Tolerant Spirit of the American Colonists" by Rev. Howard Duffield, D.D.; Number 25, "Notes on Colonial Boundaries" by Thatcher T. P. Luquer; Number 26, "Colonial Wars and Constitutional Development in New York" by Prof. Charles W. Spencer of Princeton University; and Number 27, "The Turning of Hearts" by Rev. Howard C. Robbins.

Publication Number 28 was the Year Book for 1915-1916, containing the usual information about the Society brought up to date. The practice started with the 1914-1915 Year Book of publishing memorial sketches of the deceased members was continued in this volume.

Publication Number 29 is the present Year Book; that for 1920-1921.

Published singly in paper covers in 1918 was the address delivered before the Society in 1917 by Professor Wilbur C.

Abbott of Yale University. This was given the publication number 30.

Publication Number 31 is the Register of members who were in the Military or Naval Forces or served as Civilians during the World War, issued in May, 1921. This was first issued in a temporary form as a program for the Court on March 21, 1921, the edition being 300.

PUBLICATIONS OF THE GENERAL SOCIETY OF COLONIAL WARS

The first Register of the General Society of Colonial Wars was published in New York City in 1894. It contained, besides the Constitution of the General Society, brief histories of the State Societies of New York, Pennsylvania, Maryland, Massachusetts, Connecticut and the District of Columbia, with a list of their members and a record of the ancestors under whom they qualified. The book closed with the report of the Committee on Historical Documents of the Society in the State of New York "On the Part that the Colonies Took in the Expeditions against the Spanish, 1740-1742." It was illustrated with plates of the seal, diploma, insignia, the New York Society's punch-bowl, and a picture of Washington as an officer of the Virginia Colonial forces.

It was then the intention to issue Registers annually, and the second publication appeared under date of January, 1895. There were six more State Societies included than in 1894; New Jersey, Virginia, New Hampshire, Vermont, Illinois, and Missouri. To avoid repetition the services of ancestors appeared now only in the general index. A report of the Committee on the Louisbourg Memorial was included, together with rosters of the officers of the Louisbourg expedition and of "the first American Army," that organized for the Narragansett Campaign. The book had many illustrations, among them one of the Society's flag in the original colors.

As of January, 1896, appeared the third "Annual Register," a book of about 500 pages, including, besides the twelve State Societies of a year before, the new organizations in Ohio, Nebraska, Minnesota, Kentucky, and California. The final report of the Committee on the Louisbourg Memorial was printed in full, with map and photographs.

The next Register bore the dates 1897-1898, and was issued in the summer of 1898. It was the last compiled by Howland Pell, Esq., who, as Secretary General, had also prepared the three previous Registers. The Societies in Colorado, Iowa, Georgia, Michigan, Wisconsin, Delaware and Rhode Island appeared now for the first time.

Not until 1902 was another book distributed. Then there was published the "General Register for 1899-1902," a volume of some 800 pages, issued by Walter Lisenard Suydam, Esq., Secretary General, assisted by Francis F. Spies, Esq., and Samuel V. Hoffman, Esq., all members of the New York State Society. The records to date of twenty-six State organizations were included.

Following a new policy, there was issued in July, 1906, "A Supplement to the General Register." This book bore the dates 1903-1906, and contained only the records relating to that period. The records used in the 1899-1902 General Register were not duplicated in any way. The Supplement was printed in Boston under the direction of Rev. Charles L. Hutchins, D. D., of the Massachusetts Society, with whom were associated Arthur J. C. Sowdon, Esq., of the Massachusetts Society, and Robert Noble, Esq., of the Vermont Society.

A "Second Supplement to the General Register" appeared as of 1907-1911, giving only the names of those who had joined the Society or filed supplemental lines since the First Supplement came out, together with the accompanying genealogical data, and a list of all the members of the General Society. The compiler and editor was Clarence Storm, Esq., Secretary General.

In addition to the Registers the General Society has issued two pamphlets, both paper-covered; one published in 1893, giving the Constitution of the General Society with a list of the General Officers and the Delegates to the First General Assembly, May 9th and 10th, 1893; the other, printed in 1895, having a list of General Officers, State Secretaries and Treasurers, and also the By-Laws of the General Society.

In 1896 the Society issued in cloth the "Report of the Committee on the Louisbourg Memorial," with five illustrations.

The General Society was also responsible for the publication of the Spanish-American War Records of the Society, which have been described in the list of books issued by the New York State Society.

Work is now well under way for the publication of another General Register and Index of Ancestors.

The General Society has also in recent years published regularly the minutes of all general assemblies and of all meetings of the General Council, and also issued in 1916 a report on the regulations for wearing the insignia.
